First Meeting of the 6th Editorial Board of Bulletin of Chinese Academy of Sciences

On February 20, 2017, the first meeting of the 6th Editorial Board of the Bulletin of Chinese Academy of Sciences was convened in Beijing. The meeting was presided over by Zhang Tao, Vice President of the Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS) and Executive Deputy Editor-in-Chief of the 6th Editorial Board. Bai Chunli, CAS President and Editor-in-Chief of the 6th Editorial Board, attended the meeting and delivered an important address.

During the meeting, heads of the Chinese and English editions respectively reported on the progress of their respective editions. All editorial board members discussed and approved the newly revised Editorial Board Charter. Board members engaged in vigorous discussion, thoroughly deliberating on the future development direction and topic planning of the Bulletin, and offered many constructive suggestions for the work of the current editorial board and the journal's development.

In his concluding remarks, Editor-in-Chief Bai Chunli fully recognized the development of the Bulletin in recent years and the work of its editorial office, expressing gratitude and affirmation for the work of the previous editorial board. He noted that the Bulletin is currently positioned as the “core media of the national science think tank,” distinguishing it from other natural science academic journals. He emphasized the need to further clarify its target readership and publication content, pursue differentiated development from other relevant CAS journals while forming synergistic efforts. He also put forward specific requirements for column design, new media dissemination methods, and the development of the English edition. Finally, he expressed hopes and requirements for the new editorial board, urging each member to make tangible contributions to the Bulletin's development through writing articles, organizing major special topics, and other means during their tenure.

The new editorial board of the Bulletin consists of Bai Chunli as Editor-in-Chief, Zhang Tao as Executive Deputy Editor-in-Chief, and Pu Muming, Li Guojie, Fu Bojie, Guo Huadong, Tan Tieniu, Wang Keqiang, and Wang Xingdong as Deputy Editors-in-Chief. The 6th Editorial Board comprises 41 members, including relevant strategic scientists, renowned scholars from both within and outside CAS, and heads of CAS departments.
