KURT: If we get back to Earth - if central communications has gone dead on us, we haven't a hope.

BRETT: We're not dead yet.

KURT: Don't fool yourself...
They're out there somewhere, they're looking for us now. They'll find us and then ...

Tighten to C2-s

BRETT: All right, all right!
They may well find us,
but we've got to get through to Earth first or the whole solar system is finished.

 As they split, Crab with one R to column discovering ROALD & LIZAN

ROALD AND LIZAN ENTER. ROALD IS THE SENIOR OF THE TWO, A MAN WHO HIDES HIS CYNICISM BEHIND A CAREFULLY CALCULATED POKER-FACE. LIZAN, ATTRACTIVE AND IN HER TWENTIES, CARRIES ON A CONSTANT GOOD-NATURED VERBAL WAR WITH HIM. THEY ARE SENIOR OPERATIVES AND HAVE A SNEAKING RESPECT FOR EACH OTHER.

ROALD: So, it's checkmate, isn't it? I want to see the Venus-Mars game, You want to see your hero, Mavick Chen.

Let LIZAN go. Hold on ROALD

LIZAN: I just happen to admire him. That's all. I'm going to do some work, even if you're not./

ROALD: (DAILY) That's hardly likely. The Guardian of the Solar System is going on holiday. He will, no doubt, say a few well-chosen words. Every well-chosen word will, no doubt, be transmitted.

LIZAN: What about the routine calls?

Crab LIZAN R to 4th MAN

CHEN: May the past twenty-five years prove that they are the dawn of an everlasting peace which will spread throughout the universe. Let us go forward together, secure in the knowledge that the life ahead is built upon the cornerstone of richer understanding; not only of the past, or of the present, but also of the future. May it be that this cornerstone so firmly laid, be built upon in brotherhood and bring peace, progress and prosperity to each and everyone of us. /
