MR. MOM

FADE IN:

1 EXT. THREE BEDROOM HOUSE - PRE-DAWN 1

A yellow Colonial in a quiet, orderly, middle-class suburb of Detroit. It's late summer.

2 INT. MASTER BEDROOM - SAME TIME 2

CAROLINE BUTLER: 30, wholesome and attractive, awakes next to her husband of eleven years. She quietly sits up in bed and turns off the clock radio seconds before the alarm goes off.

She takes a moment to study the face of her sleeping husband... JACK BUTLER: boyishly handsome, mid-30's... then she carefully slips out of bed and tiptoes across the darkened room, into: *

3 INT. MASTER BATHROOM 3

Caroline splashes cold water on her face -- causing her to take a deep breath, as she looks at herself in the mirror... Then she turns on the shower.

4 INT. MASTER BEDROOM - MOMENTS LATER 4 *

Caroline opens the drawn curtains, FLOODING the room with early morning SUNLIGHT and gently shakes her sleeping husband.

CAROLINE

(softly)

C'mon, Jack... wake up.

Jack groans and stirs... squinting up at Caroline.

JACK

'Mornin'...

(stretching)

... slept like a log.

Caroline kisses him, then:

CAROLINE

I'm glad. Your shower's ready.

She gathers up the clothes from the day before and exits.

5 INT. 2ND BATHROOM - SAME MORNING 5 *

As Caroline passes through, she squirts toothpaste on two tiny children's toothbrushes, lays a pair of washcloths on the edge of the sink and turns on the water. We SEE a child's potty on the floor.

6 INT. MASTER BATHROOM 6

As Jack enters and leans into the mirror to get a first-hand look at the damage. This is not a man without a care in the world. He takes the toothbrush, squeezes some toothpaste and starts to brush his teeth, as he straggles into the shower.

A beat, then:

JACK (O.S.)

Damn.

A pair of wet pajama pants are tossed onto the shower floor.

7 INT. BOYS' BEDROOM - SAME MORNING 7 *

Caroline opens a dresser and takes out some neatly folded clothes and sets them on the end of each bed. She drops a pinch of fish food into a large fish tank, then opens the blinds, FLOODING the room with LIGHT.

She grabs one little foot poking out from the covers of one of the beds and gives it an affectionate tug.

CAROLINE

Alex...

ALEX BUTLER is 6-years-old, wiry, introspective -- clearly the intellectual of the family.

ALEX

(yawning)

Hi, Mommy.

CAROLINE

Hi, Sweetheart. Sleep good?

ALEX

Um hum. I'll wake Kenny.

Caroline leans down and kisses him.

CAROLINE

Be nice. And don't touch his "woobie," okay.

7 CONTINUED:

7 *

Alex nods, smiles.

As she exits, we notice a large "Rocky" poster over the beds. Alex turns on his RADIO and pulls down the covers on the adjoining bed... We SEE a tiny pair of feet on the pillow.

D.J.'S VOICE

(over radio)

... on the rock of Detroit...

Alex peels the blankets off to reveal 4-year-old KENNY BUTLER, sleeping in an inverted position, sucking his thumb, clutching a tattered, worn baby blanket.

Alex waits a beat, then grabs a corner of the baby blanket ("woobie") and tugs.

KENNY

(screaming)

Alex... don't... no!!

8 INT. BABY'S NURSERY

8 *

Caroline opens the curtains and quickly moves to the crib, where the 16-month-old MEGAN BUTLER smiles up at her.

CAROLINE

(taking Megan)

'Morning, Baby.

9 INT. MASTER BATHROOM

9

Jack stands before the mirror, his sleepless mind cloudy, as he fiddles with his electric razor... trying unsuccessfully to make it work.

Caroline enters, holding Megan, picks up the mess Jack's made of the bathroom and plugs in the razor. The NOISE of the RAZOR embarrasses Jack.

JACK

(sheepishly)

Thanks.

Jack and Caroline exchange a knowing look, then she exits.

10 CLOSE ON SMALL TELEVISION

10 *

Early morning cartoons dance across the color screen.

11 INT. KITCHEN - SAME MORNING

11

Kenny is making a mess of his bowl of cereal while watching the cartoons, as Alex reads the newspaper while eating his cereal. Megan is in her walker fooling with her bottle.

Caroline is buttering toast, wiping up spills, putting things away, bundling up the trash... Just a few of the thousand things mothers do in the mornings.

Jack, dressed in his three-piece suit, comes bounding in... ready for work. He rubs his hands together gleefully.

JACK
(to whole family)
'Morning!

Jack sits, as Caroline walks out the back door with the trash bag. He looks into his coffee, then around the table... Finally, he borrows Megan's bottle.

JACK
(continuing) Excuse me, Megan.
(to boys)
What is green and rides through the West on a white horse?

He squeezes a fine stream of warm milk from the bottle into his coffee, returns the bottle to Megan. She smiles.

JACK
(continuing) Thanks.

The boys exchange a look, shrug.

JACK
(continuing)
The Lone Pickle!

The boys giggle and laugh. Abruptly, a car HORN HONKS.

JACK
(continuing)
They're here. Gotta go.

He takes another quick swig of coffee, tousles the kids' hair and head out of the kitchen... Caroline quickly follows him with his briefcase.

*

- 12 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - MORNING 12
 Caroline and Jack stand in the front doorway and kiss.
 Jack leaves.
 HOLD on her a beat as she watches.
- 13 CAROLINE'S POV OF JACK 13
 Walking toward the Ford LTD parked at the curb.
 CAROLINE (O.S.)
 Call me later.
 Jack waves and gets into the car...
- 14 BACK TO CAROLINE 14
 A mixture of love and concern plays across her pretty face as she watches the LTD pull away.
- 15 INT. LTD - MOVING 15 *
 JINX LATHAM, the driver, is in his late 30's. Sitting next to him is STAN NOBLE, a young executive type, who is probably a few years younger than Jack.
 In the back seat is LARRY WILLIAMS, a robust man in his early 40's. There is a tentative air in the car.
- JACK
 Who holds the world's record for the least amount of sleep?
- STAN
 I think it's Lindberg.
- JACK
 I think I beat him last night.
 (beat; then)
 Heard anything, Jinx?
- JINX
 If I did, wouldn't I tell you guys?
- LARRY
 (sarcastic)
 Not necessarily. You didn't tell Lou until after he chipped in for gas money.

15 CONTINUED:

15

JINX

Hey, Lou's a bleeder. I had to be careful with him. I was walking on eggshells with Lou.

Jack, Stan and Larry exchange a glance.

JACK

(prying)

But, you would tell us, wouldn't you, Jinx?

JINX

Tell you? You know that hurts me. You guys are family. Of course, I'd tell you.

(beat; then)

You think I like pink-slipping guys who helped me get where I am today?

LARRY

Like me?

JINX

Exactly. Tears my heart out every time. But, fellas, it's as simple as this, can't sell cars, can't pay people.

(trying to lighten things up)

Relax, I like splitting gas four ways...

A moment, then they all laugh...

16 EXT. EDSSEL FORD EXPRESSWAY - DAY

16

Jinx's LTD sails down the on-ramp and into traffic. As the car is lost in the distance, we see downtown Motor City and its familiar skyline.

17 EXT. BIG THREE AUTO PLANT - ESTABLISHING - DAY

17

As the LTD pulls up.

18 INT. BIG THREE AUTO PLANT - ASSEMBLY LINE

18

Several automatic welders clamp down on a partially assembled body. Sparks fly as the welds are made. As the welders release the now welded body, Jack's face pops up into view... he's pleased with the process.

*

18A INT. ASSEMBLY LINE - ANOTHER ANGLE

18A

The partially assembled bodies enter a circular assembly where the doors are attached... again sparks fly as welds are completed. Jack surveys the action, watching it with growing enthusiasm.

18B INT. ASSEMBLY LINE - ANOTHER ANGLE

18B

Jack watches several workers guide some of the car bodies into position for additional assembly. They spot him watching:

AUTO WORKER #1
Havin' a good time, Butler?

JACK
It's a real kick watchin' something go from the drawing board to the assembly line.

AUTO WORKER #2
(sarcastic)
Yeah, it's thrillin' for us, too.

JACK
What's the matter? You guys depressed about the Lions? Pre-season, relax. They're slow starters.

AUTO WORKER #3
We ain't worried about the Lions, man. We're worried about the lines.

JACK Lines?

AUTO WORKER #3
Yeah, unemployment lines... food lines... all those lines.

JACK
(nods, then)
Ya know, my wife and I were in a line the other night... a movie line, we saw "Rocky." It kinda reminded me of us...

AUTO WORKER #1
Which one?

18B CONTINUED:

18B

JACK Which one...? "Rocky."

AUTO WORKER #2
One, two or three?

JACK
I don't know... one, I think.
Anyway, he was taking a pretty bad beatin'... his left eye was closed...

AUTO WORKER #2
Who was he fightin'?

JACK
I don't know... a real mean dude. Where was I, oh, yeah... he was comin' off the ropes...

AUTO WORKER #2
Did he have a mohawk?

JACK
I don't know... and he was standin' toe to toe, takin' body punches...

AUTO WORKER #1
Was his manager, dead or alive...?

JACK
Look, forget "Rocky"... I'm sorry I brought it up. The point is... just because you're down, doesn't mean you're out!

Just then, a VOICE BOOMS from a LOUDSPEAKER.

VOICE
(over loudspeaker)
Jack Butler to Third Floor South.
Jack Butler to Third Floor South.

JACK
(to Auto Workers)
Catch you guys, later.

As he walks off, HOLD on the three Auto Workers... they suspect that he's not going to be around long.

A19 INT. BIG THREE AUTO PLANT - DAY

A19

As Jack walks toward the stairs he passes a fellow engineer, ART. Jack waves.

JACK
Hi, Art. How you doing?

Art hides his face and pretends not to see Jack...

B19

INT. BIG THREE AUTO PLANT - STAIRWAY - DAY

B19

As Jack climbs the flight of stairs he meets another engineer... MIKE.

JACK

Hey, Mike... What's happening?

Mike quickly waves as he passes Jack and disappears down into a doorway.

19

INT. HALL OUTSIDE JINX LATHAM'S OFFICE

19

A frosted glass door with the name "MR. LATHAM" stenciled on it. Jack stops in his tracks as he sees:

20

JACK'S POV

20

Larry is trying to strangle Jinx. He has him bent over his desk. Stan is trying vainly to pull Larry's hands loose.

A21

BACK TO JACK - THROUGH GLASS DOOR

A21

As he reacts in horror:

21

INT. JINX'S OFFICE

21

As Jack rushes in and helps Stan in finally pulling Larry off Jinx. They seat Larry on the other side of the office while Jinx tries to gasp some breath back into his life.

JINX

You crazy son-of-a-bitch. What'd you do that for?

LARRY

Why didn't you tell us this morning that we were getting canned? Coulda been really drunk by now.

This shock wave hits Jack.

JINX

I didn't know 'till just now.

JACK

What? You fired Larry and Stan? After all they've contributed?

21

CONTINUED:

21

JINX

Jack...

JACK

The years of devotion...

STAN

(to Jack)

You're fired, too.

Jack jumps at Jinx's throat.

JACK

Fired!?

21 CONTINUED:

21

STAN

Laid off.

Stan and Larry pull Jack off Jinx...

*

JINX

Technically... furloughed.

JACK

There's gotta be some middle ground here. Put us on half salary, keep our profit sharing. Things gotta turn around.

JINX

Jack, you're talking about the future. If there's no today, where's tomorrow. I'm telling you, there's blood all over my slide rule.

JACK

None of it yours, Jinx.

Stan stares off into space.

JINX

Hey, c'mon, something'll turn up. You guys are terrific engineers. You're too damn good not to catch on somewhere.

JACK

Maybe Tokyo, huh? Nagasaki? The Ruhr Valley?

Jinx laughs a little too heartily at Jack's joke.

JINX

And you're not exactly walking out of here empty handed. You're getting full severance, your profit sharing, and here... Guess what? A surprise...

*
*

He places three little bundles of money on his desk.

JINX

(continuing)

... a full pro-rata refund for this month's gas.

21

LARRY

Great. There's only one more thing I want.

JINX

What's that?

LARRY

(rising)

Disability.

Larry heads full steam toward the window, in an attempt to fling himself from the fifth floor. Fortunately, Stan and Jack grab him and start pushing him back out of the office. As they pass Jinx:

JINX

Keep that sense of humor, buddy. It's critical.

Larry breaks free of Stan and Jack and hurls himself at Jinx...

A22 EXT. TAXI - MOVING - NIGHT

A22 *

We HEAR the mingled DRUNKEN VOICES of Jack, Larry and Stan SINGING the Alka Sletzer jingle: "Plop, Plop, Fizz, Fizz; Oh, what a relief it is."

B22 INT. TAXI - MOVING - NIGHT

B22 *

Jack sits between Larry and Stan. All of them hold cardboard cartons on their laps. They SING again.

22 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - NIGHT

22

The taxi pulls up to the curb. A taxi door opens and a tipsy Jack gets out, carrying his cardboard carton. Stan's and Larry's heads appear out the window. Larry's eye is twitching.

*

*

LARRY

(yelling)

Hey, Jack...! Keep in touch...

JACK

You okay, Lar?

LARRY

Why?

*

22 CONTINUED:

22

JACK

'Cause you're winking at me. *

LARRY

Just a twitch... It'll be gone by tomorrow. *

Larry and Stan laugh.

JACK

Way to go. Keep that sense of humor, buddy. It's critical.Jack waves at the moving cab, then turns a little uneasily toward the house...

A23 INT. HOUSE - FOYER

A23 *

Caroline and the kids are waiting in the foyer for Jack.
Caroline is holding Megan. Kenny sits at her feet fiddling with his "woobie." Alex stands beside his mother, straight and tall, the perfect little man.

ALEX

Does Dad know he got fired, yet?

CAROLINE

(tolerant; fixes Alex's hair)Yes, he does. But, we aren't going to say anything about it.
We just have to make him feel good.

Alex pokes Kenny.

ALEX

You hear that?

Kenny looks up at him and nods.

CAROLINE

Here he comes. Big smiles.

23 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - EVENING

23

Jack adjusts the cardboard carton in his arms and opens the front door.

24 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - LIVING ROOM - EVENING

24

Jack enters.

- He stops dead in his tracks, as he sees:
- 25 JACK'S POV 25 *
- Caroline and the kids wait for him.
- JACK (O.S.) (trying to be cheerful)
- What is this? You guys all got dates?
- 26 BACK TO SCENE 26
- As Jack sets his carton down.
- KENNY
- No. We're all dressed up because you got fired.
- CAROLINE *
- (hushing Kenny)
- Laid off... laid off.
- JACK *
- Technically, furloughed.
- ALEX *
- But, you're not a bum, Daddy, are you?
- JACK
- (trying to be cheerful)
- No, but I'm working on it.
- KENNY *
- (holds out his blanket)
- Do you want my woobie?
- JACK
- No, thanks, baby... what I'd really like is a kiss.
- Jack picks up Kenny and gives him a hug. Alex, and Caroline with Megan, join them in a big family group hug. *

DISSOLVE TO:

27 INT. DINING ROOM - LATER

27

Caroline is cleaning up. Jack's sitting at the table with a cup of coffee.

Abruptly, Jack grabs her and pulls her onto his lap and kisses her.

JACK

You know what? I don't know why, but, I'm feeling sky-high.

*

CAROLINE

Um hmm...

She stands up and goes back to her cleaning.

JACK

(trying to reassure)

Actually, we're in pretty fair shape.

CAROLINE

... for awhile.

Caroline goes into the kitchen.

28 INT. KITCHEN

28

Caroline enters the kitchen. Jack follows her.

JACK

What do you think, I'm never going to get another job?

(beat; then)

Relax, I already put the word out...

Caroline wipes the sink dry with a dish towel.

CAROLINE

What would you think if I did, too?

*

JACK

If you did too, what?

*

CAROLINE

Put the word out...

Jack seems very surprised.

*

CAROLINE

(continuing)

Well, I do have a degree and a couple years' experience in advertising, and I thought...

Caroline opens the dishwasher and loads it with soap.

JACK

Whoa! Am I missing something? Has your phone been ringing off the hook?

CAROLINE

No, but...

JACK

You think you're going to get a job before I do?

CAROLINE

Jack, this is not a contest.

JACK

It ain't, huh? Got a dollar...?

CAROLINE

What?

JACK

C'mon, doll face. Just give me a dollar.

She goes to get the dollar from the cookie jar. Jack goes and opens the kitchen door and calls off.

JACK

(continuing)

Alex... Kenny...

Jack turns back to her and takes the dollar out of her hand and puts it on the kitchen table. He then takes money out of his pocket and peels off a $100 bill. He places the "C" note next to the dollar.

JACK

(continuing)

This is out of my severance, I want you to know that.

Alex and Kenny enter the kitchen. They're in their pajamas.

28

JACK

(continuing)

You guys are witnesses. I'm giving your Mommy a hundred-to-one odds she doesn't get a job before me.

CAROLINE

Jack, this is ridiculous.

JACK

You're holding the money, Kenny.

Alex snatches the money away, and:

ALEX

I'd better hold it, Dad. Money makes him crazy.

REACTION SHOTS of Caroline and Jack.

DISSOLVE TO:

29 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - A COUPLE WEEKS LATER

29

Multi-colored leaves blow across the lawn in the brisk early Fall freeze.

JACK (V.O.)

Take it, Caroline.

30 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - KITCHEN - MORNING

30

The family is at the breakfast table, but we hardly recognize Caroline. She's dressed in a suit, looking very pretty and sophisticated.

CAROLINE

I don't want your money, Jack.

JACK

A bet is a bet. Give her the money, Alex. You edged me out, okay?

CAROLINE

(smiles)

Honey, you're being too tough on yourself. You applied to everything on wheels from Toyota to Schwinn. And besides, my job is only temporary.

So, at best, I only win fifty.

Caroline smiles as in "Please let me off the hook, here." *

Jack heaves a deep sigh.

Caroline glances at her watch.

CAROLINE

Well, I guess I should get going.
First day, I'd like to make a good impression.

JACK

You're going to make a great impression.Caroline instinctively grabs a paper towel and, in what seems like one movement, wipes Kenny's hands, face and the table in front of him.Jack takes the paper towel away from her and starts to usher her from the kitchen.

CAROLINE

Now, remember, when Kenny starts talking to his breakfast, that means he's through. Alex has to be at school at seven-thirty.
Pick him up at one.

ALEX

And don't be late, because I cry if I'm the only one left. Because, what if you never came and got me and I had to live there?

Jack follows Caroline through the kitchen door.

31 INT. DINING ROOM

31

Caroline is talking as she walks backward toward the front door.

CAROLINE

Megan goes down for her nap when she starts rubbing her ears. But don't let her sleep past eleven-thirty, or she won't go down for her afternoon nap, which is about one-thirty.

31 CONTINUED:

31

JACK

Will she rub her ears again?

CAROLINE

Just in the morning. And, please, don't let her sit in a wet diaper. Kenny will pretty much take care of himself if you keep him involved in something. Alex'll be your helper.

Alex and Kenny have followed them into the dining room. Jack and Caroline continue their way backward toward the front door.

CAROLINE

Y'know, a lot of men would love to have this kind of time to spend with their kids.

JACK

There's one standing right in front of you.

They are now at the front door. Caroline looks at the kids and then Jack, fondly.

CAROLINE

I'm gonna miss you guys.
(to boys)
Be good to Daddy, he's a rookie.

Jack opens the front door as Caroline hugs the boys, kisses Jack and goes...

32 CLOSE ON JACK

32

As he watches Caroline leave... a mixture of love and envy plays across his face.

A33 JACK'S POV OF CAROLINE

A33 *

She holds up his briefcase and points.

CAROLINE

Thanks for the loan.

She smiles and waves.

33 INT. FOYER

33

Jack closes the door and turns around.

34 CLOSE ON JACK 34

His smile melts away. Fear creeps into his eyes, as he stares ahead blankly.

MUSIC: Ethereal, other worldly-type sting.

35 JACK'S POV - DISTORTED WIDE ANGLE 35

"TWILIGHT ZONE" view of the house and Alex and Kenny. Suddenly, there is a FLASH of LIGHTNING and a CLAP of THUNDER outside. An omen.

36 CLOSE ON WINDSHIELD WIPERS 36

As they slap the pouring rain from the window of Jack's station wagon.

37 INT. STATION WAGON 37

Jack is driving, with Kenny next to him and Alex at the window. Megan's in the baby seat in the back. The kids are not on their best behavior. Jack's proud of himself ... he's got everyone in the car. *

JACK

How about this... right on time.

38 EXT. NEIGHBORHOOD GRADE SCHOOL - MORNING 38

Ford, Chevy and Volvo station wagons, Jeep Wagoneers, etc., are lined up on the street and into the drive. Jack's station wagon wheels slowly past the traffic and several Detroit school buses and pulls into the other end of the circular drive. *

39 INT. JACK'S STATION WAGON 39

ALEX

(worried)

Dad! You're not supposed to go this way. Mommy doesn't do it like this.

JACK

Well, I'm not Mommy. Mommy's like all those other women waiting in line behind each other like sheep. I do it by the Jack Butler method.

39

He stops the car. A thin, middle-aged woman, ANNETTE MARCH, the neighborhood busybody, looks in the window. She's wearing a big yellow rain slicker and sou'wester. She smiles at Alex, a big, warm, Mr. Rogers smile. She speaks to everyone as if they were three years old; slow, deliberate and sweet.

ANNETTE

Hi, Jack, I'm Annette.

JACK

Hi, Annette.

ANNETTE

Caroline said that you'd be driving Alex for awhile.

Jack nods.

ANNETTE

(continuing; deadpan)

You're doing it wrong.

ALEX

See?

JACK

(embarrassed)

Sorry.

ANNETTE

This is what I tell all new "Mommies." We enter from the south and exit from the north. And we do just the reverse when we pick up. That way our little ones don't have to walk between the cars to get to the learning facility.

She opens the door for Alex. Jack hands him a magazine.

JACK

Keep this on your head until you get inside.

Annette shakes her head at the makeshift raingear, leads Alex back around the cars, and frees him to run into the school. She then pats Jack's car and backs away.

ANNETTE

Move it out. And remember...

ANNETTE

... south to drop off, north to pick up.

JACK

South to drop off,
north to pick up.

Jack manages a smile and pulls carefully ahead. As he weaves upstream against the waiting cars, half on the drive, half on the lawn. He waves apologetically. The other Mommies HONK their HORNS and shake their fists at him.

MOMMY

(yelling)

SOUTH to drop off, moron!

40 EXT. OFFICE BUILDING - DOWNTOWN DETROIT - MORNING 40

Caroline crosses the wet courtyard and enters the sleek, modern steel and glass building in the heart of the business district. She is carrying Jack's attache case.

41 INT. OFFICE RECEPTION AREA 41

Caroline gets off an elevator and walks timidly down the short hall to the offices of: RICHARDSON/FRANKEL ADVERTISING. She walks into the reception area.

The reception desk is alive with actors, actresses, agents, reps, art directors, photographers, salesmen, you name it. Caroline makes her way through this sea of humanity to the receptionist.

42 INT. RECEPTION AREA - A LITTLE LATER 42

Caroline sits between a painfully thin, high fashion, model and an overweight, bearded, avant garde artist. Caroline is a bit uneasy as she watches another woman approach. *

EVE METZ is in her 30's, an aging beauty... makeup's a little too heavy, the blouse, a little too revealing.

EVE

Mrs. Butler?

Caroline rises from her chair and smiles.

EVE

(continuing; shaking her hand)

Eve Metz. Follow me, please. *

43 INT. HALLWAY - RICHARDSON/FRANKEL ADVERTISING

43

Caroline has left her attache case somewhere as she dodges a hurrying art director with fresh storyboards and tries to keep up with Eve, through the noisy, busy corridor...

*

CAROLINE

I'm so excited about going back to work and being here and working with Ron.

EVE

(icily)

"Ron?" Who would Ron be?

CAROLINE

Ah... Ron Richardson.

EVE

(icily)

Everyone here at the Richardson/
Frankel Agency calls him
"Mr. Richardson."

CAROLINE

(defensively)

Well, he asked me to call him Ron.

(quickly)

When was that? In what context?

CAROLINE

In the context of my interview at lunch.

EVE

Lunch?

They arrive at the door to the conference room.

EVE

(continuing)

Now, before we go in here, let me give you some advice. Keep your mouth shut and your ears open and you just might learn something.

As Eve opens the door, stale cigarette smoke wafts out.

44 INT. CONFERENCE ROOM (COVER FOR TV)

44

EXEC. #1

That is monkey squat.

44 CONTINUED:

44

EXEC. #2

Well, your idea is squirrel shit.

Eve grins at Caroline's discomfort.

Caroline looks around the room. It is a mess. Ashtrays are filled to overflowing. The air is stale and stuffy with smoke. There are several advertising layouts taped to the walls.

Several EXECUTIVES has been going all night searching for a marketing solution. One of them (Exec. #5) is a wiry, middle-aged, chain-smoking woman. They're all tired and worn... Tempers are hot.

Eve points out an empty seat for Caroline, and sits down herself next to the head of the table. The Executives hardly take any notice of them. They continue their argument. Another Executive (#4) points to the layouts on the wall.

EXEC. #4

Well, which one of these are we going to go with?

EXEC. #5 (FEMALE)

They're all kaka.

Exec. #1 flips a pencil at the layouts he's so unhappy with.

EXEC. #3

(angry; offended)

Dumping all over everything isn't going to sell tuna fish.

EXEC. #4

Knock it off! Ron? What's your position?

All heads turn toward the head of the table, where RON RICHARDSON sits. He's about Jack's age, handsome and fit, wealthy and powerful.

RICHARDSON

My father founded this agency with Schooner Tuna... It's the cornerstone of our accounts. So, my position is, somebody better find a way to sell some tuna pretty damn quick!

*

The room falls silent, tense. Caroline nervously starts cleaning the area around her. She empties an ashtray into the pizza box and closes it. She sets it aside. Her motions are smooth and quick, like she was in her own kitchen. The Executives stare at her... She realizes she's being scrutinized and stops.

RICHARDSON

(continuing)

We have people who do that.

CAROLINE

(laughs nervously)

Sorry, habit. *

RICHARDSON

Oh, everybody, say hello to Caroline Butler.

Greetings are mumbled from all over the room.

RICHARDSON

(continuing)

Caroline's just come aboard as a Junior. She'll be troubleshooting with me.

(to Caroline)

Since you're the only one in the room who got any sleep last night, maybe you have a fresh opinion...

(pointing)

Take a look at those layouts. Anything make sense?

Caroline looks around the room at all the tired faces, catches the icy stare from Eve, then:

CAROLINE

I'm not qualified to judge anything. Really. This is my first day...

RICHARDSON

You ever eat tuna fish?

CAROLINE

Yes, but...

RICHARDSON

You're qualified.

There's no way out. She looks around at the layouts. The other Executives don't think much of the idea.

CAROLINE

Yes?

RICHARDSON

Cut the crap.

*

CAROLINE

Right. You want me to be honest with you...?

*

One of the guys groans. Another tosses a pencil in the air.

EXEC. #2

(chuckling)

No, lie to him, he likes it!

CAROLINE

I don't think any of this would influence me.

Comments such as: "Listen to this shit," "Ninety Day Wonder," "Harriet Homemaker," "A real team player,"
"Take a hike, Blondie," are HEARD. Caroline bristles at the negativity.

*

*

RICHARDSON

(hushing the room)

Go on, Caroline.

*

CAROLINE

(continuing; firmly)

Well, look, the fact of the matter is... Schooner Tuna's too cheap!
Most tunas...

*

EXEC. #3

Too cheap?! The country's going in the toilet and she says it's too cheap!

CAROLINE

Offering recipes doesn't mean anything if the tuna's lousy... and why would I want a fifty cents off coupon for something I won't buy.

More groans from the room. The Executives have had enough of the inadvertent insults.

EXEC. #1

Come on, Ron. She doesn't know her ass from a Cheerio!

Exec. #2 lets out a horse laugh. Caroline flashes him a puzzled look.

EXEC. #3
Damn good thing we don't have the Cheerio account!

The men break up. Caroline looks hurt and confused and angry.

47 INT. SUPERMARKET - CLOSE ON JACK - AFTERNOON

47 *

As he enters with Megan and Kenny. Jack's eyes widen as he takes it all in.

*
*

47A JACK'S POV

47A *

Of the busy, crowded, LOUD supermarket.

*

47B LINE OF SHOPPING CARTS

47B *

Jack struggles with one, trying to get it unstuck from the others. He tugs hard... abruptly, the handle comes off in his hands. He quickly puts the handle back on... and takes another cart.

47D PACKAGED GOODS AISLE - JACK

47D

Pushing the bad shopping cart. Megan's in the seat, Kenny is sitting in the basket.

Jack's lost and confused. He consults his shopping list, then:

JACK

Where do I find the eggs, Kenny?

Kenny's arm shoots out to the right. Jack wheels around the aisle and rams into another shopping cart being steered by a MIDDLE-AGED WOMAN, in a jogging suit.

MIDDLE-AGED WOMAN

I beg your pardon! I have the right of way.

JACK

(making light)

Sorry, I just got my learner's permit for this thing.

His joke is not appreciated. The woman wheels away angrily. Jack watches her go and turns left into another aisle... off screen. We hear a CRASH! Moments later, several cans of beans roll down the floor from the direction Jack went.

VOICE

(over loudspeaker)

Irv. Accident on aisle four!

48 INT. SUPERMARKET - PRODUCE SECTION

48

Jack stands next to the loose potatoes bin. He selects one... this starts an avalanche of potatoes... cascading onto the floor. Jack tries to stop them -- it's too late.

A uniformed, GIRL in her early 20's approaches.

GIRL

(frowns)

How did this happen...?!

JACK

(embarrassed, quickly covering)

Kenny! I've told you a dozen times! Keep your hands inside the cart.

(to Girl)

Sorry.

Irv! Spilled vegetables in produce.

52

INT. SUPERMARKET - DELI COUNTER

52

A YOUNG GIRL is waiting on Jack. He's referring to his list.

JACK
A pound of ham.

GIRL
Boiled? Baked? Smoked? Salt cured? Sugar cured? Virginia?
Proshuto? West Phalian?

A couple of people line up behind Jack.

JACK
Forget it. Make it half a pound of salami.

GIRL
Italian? Kosher? Hard? Beef?
Pork? Cotto? What?

Some more people fall in behind Jack.

JACK
Never mind. I'll just take a quarter pound of cheese.

GIRL
American? Blue? Cottage?
Cream? Edam? Gouda?
Provolone? Romano? Swiss? Then there's the Cheddar family...

The line behind Jack gets longer.

JACK (rubbing his brow, interrupts her)
Could you give me the hams, again...?

49 INT. SUPERMARKET - PAPER PRODUCTS AISLE 49

Jack's eyes shift back and forth sneakily. He's like a spy, a thief. He reaches out -- abruptly, two ladies walk down the aisle talking. He ducks back, trying to act nonchalant as they pass.

When the coast is clear, he reaches out again.

50 CLOSE - TAMPON BOX 50

Jack grabs the box.

51 BACK TO AISLE 51

As it suddenly erupts with activity. A dozen women, chatting, pushing carts, reaching for similar products. Jack shrinks away.

51A JACK AND HIS CART 51A

As he hands Tampon box to Kenny.

JACK

Put this under the celery... okay.

Kenny does.

53 INT. SUPERMARKET - CHECK-OUT COUNTER 53

While Jack waits, the CHECK-OUT LADY starts taking items out of his cart and ringing them up.

CHECK-OUT LADY

Half a pound of Virginia ham.
Half a pound of dry salami... half a pound of swiss cheese... celery...

Jack's eyes follow her as she reaches for the Tampons and is about to ring it up. Then:

CHECK-OUT LADY

(continuing)

I think they're on special.

JACK

(nervously)

I don't care... really.

CHECK-OUT LADY

Lemme check.

CHECK-OUT LADY

(continuing)

Irv... are these Tampon secures on special?

Jack grabs the mike and speaks into it.

JACK

Irv... never mind.

IRV (V.O.)

(over loudspeaker)

Yeah. Nineteen cents off.

We hear a CHILD CRYING (O.S.). Jack turns around, reacts excitedly.

JACK

Kenny? Where's Kenny?

54

55 JACK'S POV

55

Someone else's kid, a boy about Kenny's age, is sitting in Jack's basket. He looks up at Jack and cries.

56 JACK

56

In panic, grabs the crying kid from out of his basket.

JACK

Shh! We'll find your mommy.

Jack takes off, leaving Megan behind.

57 ANOTHER ANGLE - SUPERMARKET

57

Jack races down the aisle with the wailing child in his arms SCREAMING Kenny's name. He reaches the end of the aisle, turns and looks back.

58 JACK'S POV OF A SHOPPING CART

58

Going by with Kenny sitting under it.

59

JACK

59

JACK
Kenny! Kenny!!

He runs down the aisle. The little boy is SHRIEKING.
As Jack disappears O.S. we hear ANOTHER CRASH!

VOICE
(over loudspeaker)
Irv. Spilled pickles aisle five!

60

CLOSE ON YOUNG WOMAN SHOPPER

60

Slowly pushing her cart down an aisle. She hears the hysterical child and turns to see Jack zeroing in on her.

JACK Halt!

Jack hands the kid to her.

JACK
(continuing) Sorry. I'll trade you yours for mine.

Jack bends down and pulls Kenny out from under the other cart and takes off, as:

WOMAN
(yelling to Jack)
I don't have any kids!

61

CHECK-OUT COUNTER

61

Jack marches Kenny up to the cart and puts him back.
His eyes widen in horror.

62

CLOSE ON SHOPPING CART BABY SEAT

62

Megan's gone.

63

CHECK-OUT LADY

Yeah. She's adorable.

JACK

She's gone.

He turns from her to face a BIKER. A gnarled, grungy nightmare-of-a-man. Six-foot, two-hundred-fifty pounds, in stinking leather.

BIKER

You abandoned a baby in a shopping cart? Do you know what kind of emotional damage that causes...?!

Jack is horrified, his wild eyes search the store for some sight of Megan.

64

CEREAL AISLE

64

JOAN HAMPTON has Megan in her arms. She's in her early 30's, pretty, a little worn at the edges, but she still makes it.

We hear ANOTHER CRASH! Moments later, Jack runs past with his cart. Joan sees him go by, laughs and points him out to Megan.

JOAN

There's your daddy.

Jack stop and pulls his cart around. He breathes an enormous sigh of relief. Resting his hands on his knees, he tries to catch his breath. Joan walks over and returns Megan.

JOAN

(continuing)

I'm Joan. Caroline told me you'd be around. Can I give you a hand? I practically live here.

JACK

Give me both of 'em. I don't know what the hell I'm doing.

VOICE

Irv! Broken glass on aisle seven.

JACK

(defensive, yelling)

Irv! We were never on aisle seven! Honest!!

yl

65 EXT. SUPERMARKET - LATER

65

Jack and Joan load groceries into their respective cars parked next to each other.

JOAN
Not so easy, is it?

JACK
I'll say.

JOAN
Might even be the toughest job in the world. It bends your back, drives you nuts and...

She inhales deeply, showing off her body.

JOAN
(continuing)
... makes your boobs droop.

Embarrassed, Jack looks down at his own chest.

A65 NEW ANGLE

A65

As Jack closes his trunk lid and moves around to his car door... Joan follows.

JOAN
So don't be ashamed to ask for help.

Jack gets in his car as Joan scribbles something on a torn piece of shopping bag.

JOAN
(continuing)
Mommy training can be real tricky. I can help with sitters, shopping, menus... or if you just want to talk. Here's my number.

She hands Jack the piece of paper as he starts the car.

JACK
(holding paper)
What's this say...?

Joan leans down, showing some cleavage... as Kenny shifts car into reverse.

Jack puts his foot on the accelerator and the station wagon abruptly -- SCREECHES BACKWARD!

B65 WIDER ANGLE

B65

Of Joan laughing as Jack finally regains control of his car.

Jack sheepishly waves at Joan as he drives away.

65A EXT. PARKING LOT - NEXT AISLE

65A

ANNETTE MARCH, the neighborhood busybody, wheels her cart past Joan.

ANNETTE

CAROLINE

Oh, it was... it was...

(starts to cry)

It was terrible. Awful.

JACK

(alarmed)

What happened?

CAROLINE

(through her tears)

People were mean to me, and yelled at me... and I didn't know anything... and there's this secretary who hates me...

Jack tries to stand up, but he seems to be bent over in a permanent stoop... Caroline takes over, making everything look easy.

JACK

(mock tough)

I'll beat 'em all up. Just point them out to me.

Kenny and Alex cheer, "Yeah, Daddy," etc.

CAROLINE

The only one who was even civil was Ron.

JACK

Ron...?!

CAROLINE

Mr. Richardson. Asked me my opinion. And, I tell him exactly how I feel, and he likes it. Can you believe it? I can't believe it. Then they tell me a bunch of us are going to fly to Boston to tour their plant and speak to the client. Is that an unbelievable first day on the job, or what?

We HEAR Caroline's VOICE outside the bedroom door.

CAROLINE (O.S.)

Close your eyes, Jack.

JACK

I'm all yours!

He closes his eyes and smiles. Caroline enters and crosses to the bed. She sits down and TURNS UP the LIGHT. She is carrying a tray with two bowls of tuna salad.

CAROLINE

Now, open your mouth.

JACK

(lecherous)

I like it already.

Jack opens his mouth and Caroline puts in a spoonful of tuna fish. Jack's eyes pop open in surprise and disappointment.

Alex opens the door. Ron Richardson enters.

RICHARDSON

Hi. Would you please tell your Mommy that Mr. Richardson is here?

ALEX

Stay right here. I'm not supposed to let strangers in the house.

Alex starts up the stairs.

75A INT. TOOL SHED - DAY

75A

Jack frantically searches through his tool boxes.

75B INT. FOYER - DAY

75B

Richardson stands awkwardly as we hear a CHAIN-SAW COMING CLOSER. Jack enters the front door wearing overalls over his pajamas, a painter's hat, and goggles. He carries a chain-saw. Jack casually strolls in and stops when he sees Richardson... he turns off the saw and pushes up his goggles.

JACK

Hey, you must be Ron Richardson.
Jack Butler. Put 'er there.

Jack sticks out his hand. They shake. Jack squeezes Richardson's hand until we can read the pain in his eyes.

RICHARDSON

Nice to meet you. Just waiting for Caroline.

JACK

You know women.
(winks)
Get you a beer?

RICHARDSON

It's eight-thirty in the morning.

JACK

Right. Whiskey? Scotch?

Richardson reacts. Alex wanders back into the room about now and listens intently.

JACK

(continuing; off-handedly)

Just taking advantage of some time off to build a new wing the room and caught the tail-end of what Jack has been saying.

CAROLINE

Hi, Ron.

RICHARDSON

Hi. Don't you look nice.

CAROLINE

Thanks. Sorry to keep you waiting.

RICHARDSON

No problem. Just having a little chat with Jack. Quite a guy.

CAROLINE

Don't I know.

RICHARDSON

We'd better get going. Nice meeting you, Jack.

Jack holds out his hand. Richardson goes for it, remembers the previous bone-crusher, and slaps Jack on the shoulder instead.

JACK

Hey, it was my pleasure. Take care of my little woman now.

Richardson exits, with Caroline right behind him.

CAROLINE

30,000 feet. Richardson's on his third, and Caroline is drinking coffee.

RICHARDSON

Humphrey's tough... the toughest client we've got... But, just remember, Caroline, you've got two things going for you.

A Steward clears away the appetizers.

RICHARDSON

(continuing)

Your experience as a homemaker, fresh from the trenches of consumerism and the implicit of course, your body.

The executives turn at the word "body," and roll their eyes at each other.

CAROLINE

RICHARDSON

Because you're an executive, right?

Richardson looks down and watches Caroline nervously cutting his steak into little bite-sized pieces.

CAROLINE

Right.

RICHARDSON

Now that we both know that you're an executive... you can stop cutting my steak.

Caroline puts the knife down, embarrassed again. There is a beat.

CAROLINE

Alright, but eat your vegetables.

permanent press, delicate...

ALEX
Dad.

JACK Yo!

Jack reads the directions on a Tide box and pours in a cup.

ALEX
Can we fix lunch?

JACK
Okay, anything but tuna!

As Alex and Kenny run up the stairs, Jack picks up a bottle of liquid detergent. He pours in a cup. He drops in a couple of fabric softener sheets and SLAMS the lid closed.

JACK
(continuing; to himself)
That wasn't any major problem.

He starts for the stairs. The WASHER lets out a pained GROAN. An almost-human cry for help.

81 INT. KITCHEN

81

Jack hurries up the stairs from the basement as he HEARS the front door KNOCKER BANG.

He rushes through, not noticing Alex and Kenny pouring chili into a brownie pan. They put the pan into the oven and turn up the heat.

82 INT. FOYER

82

Jack opens the door revealing a woman TV repair person, DORIS.

DORIS
Butler? You having a problem with your horizontal hold?

JACK
If you say so.

83 INT. LIVING ROOM

83

As Jack leads Doris toward the family room TV. He stops in his tracks.

84 JACK'S POV OF MEGAN

84

In her walker, playing in the potted plants... Soil's everywhere. She looks up at him with a face black with dirt, and grins.

JACK
Megan! Alex!!

Jack points Doris to the family room, grabs a plant out of Megan's hand and starts to put the soil back. Megan grabs Jack's keys off the coffee table and throws them on the rug. Jack does not see this.

DORIS (O.S.) *
Mr. Butler, can you come here a minute?

JACK *
I'm busy!

He starts throwing soil back into a pot. *

DORIS (O.S.) *
I get forty-five dollars an hour.

JACK *

Richardson tells his Executives a joke as Caroline talks on the phone.

CAROLINE
(into phone)
Hi, Sweetheart. What's all that noise?

*
*

The "yes" men roar with laughter at Richardson's joke, of course.

JACK (V.O.)
(filtered)
Nothing. Where are you calling from, a bar?

*
*

91 INT. LIVING ROOM

91

Jack is holding the pulsating "Jaws" in a death grip.

CAROLINE (V.O.)
(filtered)
I'm calling from 30,000 feet, in a private jet, Jack. It's incredible.

JACK (sarcastic)
I'm thrilled for you.

Doris appears in the doorway.

DORIS
You want to come in and check this TV, so I can get going?

Jack nods as the front door KNOCKER BANGS and the back door BUZZER SOUNDS.

JACK Stay!

*

92 INT. KITCHEN

92

Alex opens the back door. PHIL, in a Gas Company uniform, stands waiting.

PHIL
 I'm here to adjust the pilot on your water heater.

ALEX
 Okay by me.

Alex points Phil downstairs. The oven TIMER BUZZES.

*

PHIL
 (sniffing)
 'Zat chili? Smells good.

93 INT. FOYER

93

Jack reaches the front door as the oven TIMER BUZZES AGAIN.

JACK Shit!

He opens the front door. It's the PEST CONTROL MAN.

PEST CONTROL MAN
 Monthly services.

JACK
 Jeeze, been a month already?!

94 INT. KITCHEN

94

Jack runs in, opens the oven door... smoke billows out.

JACK (closing door)
Alex!!!

Jack races out the back door past Kenny. Doris and the Pest Control Man exchange looks.

DORIS
She musta married him for his money.

Megan waddles over to the trashcan in her walker.

95 INT. BASEMENT LAUNDRY ROOM

95

The washer is gyrating wildly. The door of the washer is open and sudsy clothes are being spit out like a machine gun... pinning Phil against the wall. *

96 INT. KITCHEN

96

Jack rushes in with a fire extinguisher. He opens the oven door and douses the fire. As the smoke clears... the SMOKE DETECTOR GOES OFF. Jack looks up angrily.

JACK Step back!

Everybody does. Jack squirts the smoke detector, as Megan grabs a chili can and sticks her fist in it. She takes a mouthful... likes it, digs in for another can.

97 INT. LIVING ROOM

97

Jack enters, flustered, face blackened with smoke. "Jaws" has already done a good deal of damage and is nowhere in sight.

JACK
(suddenly shouting)
Kenny! Run for your life...!

98 JACK'S POV OF KENNY

98

Running from the other room, pursued by "Jaws." Kenny runs into the foyer and up the stairs. Then suddenly, Kenny SCREAMS.

99 INT. FOYER

99

Jack rushes in and sees that Kenny's safe... But, "Jaws" has his "woobie." Kenny SCREAMS. Jack tries to pull "woobie" away from "Jaws"... He's losing.

Jack hits a switch. A beat, then out spews the "woobie," the car keys, dirt, dust and hair. Jack unplugs the vacuum as he disappears into a cloud of filth.

Phil, Doris, the Pest Control Man and Alex have entered during Jack's final battle with "Jaws." In horror, they watch Megan tool in in her walker... still holding onto the chili can.

*

DORIS

(to Jack)

Are you crazy? You fed a baby chili?!

100 CLOSE ON MEGAN

100

She drops the chili can and BELCHES.

101 SERIES OF QUICK CUTS

101

Of everyone in the room reacting.

102 CLOSE ON CHILI CAN

102

As it rolls across the floor... Megan BELCHES AGAIN!

103 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - HIGH ANGLE - DAY

103

As Doris, Phil, Pest Control Man all bolt from the house, jump into their respective vehicles and SCREECH away.

104 INT. UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - A LITTLE LATER

104

Alex and Kenny stare up at Jack. He's wearing an apron, rubber cleaning gloves, a swimmer's nose plug and a hand towel tied over his mouth.

He holds his hands up like a surgeon. Under one arm is a roll of paper towels, under the other, a green plastic garbage bag. Stuck in his belt is a can of air freshener and a pair of spaghetti tongs. He walks with Frankenstein-like steps.

- Caroline enters the darkened room. Her eyes adjust to the LIGHT from the TV late movie, then she smiles as she looks fondly at an exhausted Jack and the boys .. asleep on the couch. *
- CAROLINE
(softly)
Sorry, I'm late.
- Jack and the boys open their eyes halfway. *
- CAROLINE
(continuing; sweetly)
Did everybody have a good day? *
- Jack and the boys just look at her. *
- 107 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - LIVING ROOM - ANOTHER DAY 107
- Jack is in a suit and tie. He's talking to a teenage babysitter, DEBBIE. She's holding Megan. Kenny and Alex are on the floor playing.
- JACK
No phone calls, no visitors.
These kids are your responsibility now.
- DEBBIE Totally okay, Mr. Butler. I've babysat these kids before. *
- Jack picks up his briefcase, kisses the kids goodbye and exits.

She sits down and pulls her cigarettes out of her jeans and lights up. The front door opens. Debbie panics and shoots the cigarette across the room... holding her breath as Jack sticks his head in the room.

JACK

And, no smoking!

108 INT. EMPLOYMENT AGENCY - RECEPTION ROOM

108

Jack waits with about a dozen hapless, unemployed white-collar workers. Two unemployed men, HIGGINS and DOUGLASS, talk next to Jack.

DOUGLASS

Does your wife like seafood?

HIGGINS

Yeah, but seafood smells up the kitchen. Takes me hours to get rid of the odor.

(beat; then)

You got something simple?

DOUGLASS

I got a hamburger Wellington that's out of this world.

Jack's not interested, but Higgins and several other men open their briefcases, take out pens and resumes.

HIGGINS

Great, let me have it.

DOUGLASS

Start with two pounds of beef, lean and mean... brown it in butter.

The men write on the back of their resumes... Another MAN exits from the inner office into the reception area.

RECEPTIONIST

Higgins. You're next.

Higgins stops writing, looks at Jack.

HIGGINS

Hey, there ain't a job available in this whole city... besides, I got no place to go. Go ahead.

Jack hesitates.

DOUGLASS

... drain off the excess fat...

RECEPTIONIST

Okay, Butler, I guess you're next.

Jack rises, walks to inner office door, turns:

JACK

(to Higgins)

Hey, if you've got an extra copy of that receipt, I'd appreciate it.

Higgins nods; Jack enters inner office.

109 EXT. CITY PARK - DAY

109

Jack sits, discouraged, on one of the park benches. He absentmindedly throws some peanuts to the pigeons fluttering at his feet.

JACK

I'll bet you guys have seen your share of down an' out guys.

(beat, then)

Level with me. How far down am I...?

Just then a BUM sits down next to Jack, he studies the peanuts in Jack's hand. The pigeons flutter and fly OUT OF THE SHOT, as Jack gives Bum his peanuts and exits.

110B

Jack silently drives as Caroline studies his face for a moment, then:

CAROLINE
You're angry. Aren't you?

JACK
Me? No. Why?

CAROLINE
'Cause I can tell when you're angry and you seem angry.

JACK
You're wrong. I'm not angry.
It's just not where I wanna be right now.

CAROLINE
Jack, I can't not go. Please, do it for me... I did it for you.
(beat, then)
We'll only stay ten minutes.

JACK
Ten minutes?

CAROLINE
Fifteen tops.

JACK
Fair enough. Anymore an' we do the ol' Aunt Emily.

Caroline nods and smiles.

111 EXT. RICHARDSON'S HOME - DAY

Your parking ticket, sir.

Jack reacts at the SOUND of the VOICE.

JACK

Stan...

114

WIDER ANGLE

114

Revealing that the parking attendant is Stan Noble.

STAN

As you can see, I'm still in cars, Jack.

Held up moment between the two friends, then:

JACK

Haven't heard from Larry, have Jack nervously loosens his tie in an attempt to be casual, as Richardson, in slacks and blazer, and Eve in Ralph Lauren casual, approach.

CAROLINE

(to Jack)

There's Ron.

RICHARDSON

Hello, Caroline. Hi there...

CAROLINE

(quickly)

You remember my husband, Jack.

RICHARDSON

Sure. How you doin', Jack?

The two men shake hands. Eve nods "hello" to Caroline. She sizes up Jack and smiles at him.

EVE

(to Caroline)

How come we never hear about him at the office?

Jack looks a little hurt. Caroline looks confused.

RICHARDSON

You must be pretty darn proud of our Caroline.

Richardson hugs Caroline. Jack virtually wrests her from his grasp and hugs Caroline himself.

JACK

You bet we are. I am. The kids are. We're all proud of her at home.

RICHARDSON

Well, she deserved that promotion.

Jack looks quizzically at Caroline.

CAROLINE

Just a little promotion, Jack. No big deal.

She's sick.

JACK

Dying.

ALEX

Dead.

Jack claps a fatherly hand on Alex's shoulder to shut him up.

RICHARDSON

Sorry to hear it. Especially since I was counting on you to join our corporate olympics, Butler.

Richardson nods over in another direction and they all follow his look.

CAROLINE

Jack, he merely asked...

JACK

I know a challenge when I hear one... "new blood!"

ANNOUNCER'S VOICE

119

Richardson takes off his sweatsuit and hands it to Eve as Jack runs up to join the six other CONTESTANTS.

Jack does some deep knee bends, then touches his toes. The other Contestants watch.

CONTESTANT #1

Relax, Butler, you're not going to win anyway.

JACK

Everyone else at the picnic clusters around the course, cheering. The starter raises his gun and FIRES. They're off!

120 LONG SHOT

120

As the runners APPROACH CAMERA. CAMERA is OVERCRANKED, and the SOUND of their FOOTFALLS and BREATHING is EXAGGERATED. Jack and Richardson are giving it their all.

121 WIDER ANGLE

121

Two Contestants try to sandwich Jack between them. He is jostled a bit, but manages to stay clear...

122 FIRST MARTINI TABLE

122

Richardson and Jack reach there about the same time. Richardson downs the 4 martinis in a thrice. He's good at it. He takes off for the wall. Jack is having trouble finishing the 4 martinis quickly. He finally does.

123 CROWD

123

Cheering for Richardson. Eve's overjoyed at this turn of events. She shoots a look at Caroline... who seems at a loss as to what she should do. Alex, Kenny and Megan all cheer for Jack.

124 BACK TO RACE

124

as Jack weaves his way around the table and heads for the wall. Richardson's having trouble getting over.

- 125 JACK'S POV 125
It's HAZY. There seems to be two ropes dangling from the wall.
- 126 THE WALL 126
As Jack literally hits it. He gets up and grabs the rope... only to be body blocked by a heavy-set Contestant and knocked down again. Finally, Jack hoists himself over... hitting the ground seconds after Richardson.
- 127 THE CROWD
Going wild. The agency employees are cheering reluctantly for Richardson. Alex, Kenny, Megan and Caroline are cheering for Jack. Eve scowls at them angrily.
- 128 LOW ANGLE - SHOOTING THROUGH THE PIPES 128
At Richardson and Jack crawling. Richardson is in the lead. He emerges, with Jack right on his heels.
- 129 TIRE RUN 129
Jack negotiates the tires pretty well, but Richardson ends up sprawled on his belly. One of the other Contestants tries to help Richardson up, he waves him off...
- 130 MONKEY BARS 130
There is only one set. Jack makes it over two rungs then falls off. Now, it's Richardson's turn. Amazingly, he picks his way agilely across the bars...
- 131 WATER TROUGH 131
Richardson tries to leap across and lands right in the middle! Jack makes the leap, as Richardson runs up the other side and out.

 wife can do for his husband.

Jack puts his arms around the boys and walks off...
 Caroline knows he's hiding the hurt.

139

Sometime later. The weather is turning cold. It is a typical busy morning on the block.

Caroline Butler emerges from the house. She is dressed in a fabulous new outfit. As she approaches her car, her next door neighbor (BOB) also emerges from his house. They exchange good mornings, then: *

BOB
 How 'bout those Lions, huh?

CAROLINE
 Thank God for Billy Sims.

Bob waves goodbye and gets into his car, as Caroline opens her car door. But, before she gets in, she turns and looks back to the house and waves at the upstairs window.

140 UPSTAIRS WINDOW

141 INT. MASTER BEDROOM

141

Jack is standing at the window dressed in a ratty robe. His hands are pressed against the glass, and he is staring blankly at the wonderful world outside as it passes him by. He raises his hand as if to wave to Caroline. Instead, he wipes the window with a paper towel.

141A INT. BUTLER HOUSE - LIVING ROOM - MORNING

141A *

Jack, wearing a frumpled, untucked flannel shirt, wrinkled jeans and slippers, feather-dusts the coffee table. His eyes stop on the family album.

He sits and slowly leafs through the pages... watching the recorded events of his life pass by.

141B CLOSE ON ALBUM

141B *

As the flipping pages reveal Jack and Caroline's younger years... their wedding... the kids' baby pictures... etc.

142 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - AFTERNOON

142 *

It's littered with a large pile of dirty laundry and linens. We hear VOICES:

WOMAN'S VOICE (O.S.)

... don't... don't leave. Kiss me again, please. Please, kiss me once more.

MAN'S VOICE (O.S.)

You know where that's going to lead to, don't you...?

WOMAN'S VOICE (O.S.)

I know, I want it to lead there. I want to feel alive again...

MUSIC: STING.

Jack walks out of the bedroom with a portable TV and a mop bucket and starts to cross the hall.

JACK

(to TV)

Don't listen to her, Victor. She's a tramp. She's already buried one husband.

143 INT. BOYS' BEDROOM - A FEW DAYS LATER

143

Jack's in the same flannel shirt, but his beard is now longer. Hardly taking his eyes off his soap, he sets the TV down and rakes the toys that are on the floor under the bed.

VICTOR (O.S.)

So, I'm not the father of the child. Well, that's some consolation. Just who is the culprit?

NIKKI (O.S.)

You don't want to know.

VICTOR (O.S.)

(on TV)

Well, let me guess. Probably the deceased Mr. Cashman.

Jack is incredulous.

JACK

(to TV)

You're wrong, Victor! Open your eyes! Nikki doesn't love you... she's been boffing your friend Kevin.

Jack reaches into the mop bucket and retrieves a cold beer out of the ice. He pops it open and drinks.

VICTOR

(on TV)

You mean Kevin Bancroft.

JACK

(to TV)

Right. Now watch, she'll blame you.

NIKKI

(on TV)

You threw me at him, you let him know it was perfectly fine for him to take me to San Francisco. Only he took me to bed first and it's your fault.

JACK

See, I told you...

The portable TV is running Jack's soap again.

NIKKI rights...

The washing machine lid is open and Jack stands ten feet back wadding up a pair of underpants. He's still in that flannel shirt, but his beard is a little longer. During the following, Jack does elaborate wind-up routine, including crotch check.

JACK

Butler's on the mound. He's loose and confident.

(lowering his voice)

He checks the runners...

Jack winds up and pitches the underpants... They sail into the washer. Jack shakes a triumphant fist.

JACK

(continuing)

It's a strike! Butler has retired the side. It looks like he's going to go upstairs and make lunch for his children.

Jack starts up the stairs.

JACK

(continuing)

My guess is he'll be making hot dogs the form and soup for himself.

What's your comment on that, Al?

(another voice)

Good idea, Bob.

(as Bob)

Thanks, Al.

145 INT. KITCHEN - DAYS LATER

145

The beard is looking better, but the flannel shirt is not. Jack's got his soap on again. An ironing board is set up in the kitchen. Jack watches the soaps as he pours nearly a half a bottle of popcorn kernels into an electric popcorn maker. Alex starts to warn him, but thinks better of it. Jack goes back to his ironing.

Dad? These are cold, and the cheese isn't hardly melted down.

Jack doesn't miss a beat. He reaches down with the hot iron... pressing it on Alex's sandwich. It SIZZLES and STEAMS. Jack does the same for Kenny's. The popcorn starts POPPING.

146 CLOSE ON MICROWAVE OVEN

146

The BUZZER GOES OFF. Jack opens the door and takes out a load of baby socks.

147 BACK TO KITCHEN

147

Kenny holds his "woobie" up to Jack.

KENNY

Daddy! Daddy, my "woobie's" ripped!

JACK

Kenny, why don't you get rid of that blanket?

KENNY

(screaming)

No... no...

JACK

(holding his ears)

All right... All right!

Jack rummages through the utility drawer, finds what he's looking for, kneels down and staples Kenny's "woobie."

JACK

(continuing)

There you go. Now, I'd appreciate it if you guys would keep it down for a couple minutes. Nikki gets the results of the blood tests today.

ALEX
He sure got Nikki. *

SOUND: PHONE RINGS. Jack answers it.

JACK
(into phone)
Hey, how you doing, Joan... I think it's Kevin's... Victor?
It can't be Victor. He's had a vasectomy... it didn't take??
You sure? *

The popcorn is coming fast and furiously. The popper is overloaded.

ALEX
Dad, the popcorn.

JACK
(into phone)
You and who else?... Sure, bring them over here. See you.

At this point, the popper starts firing popcorn. The overloaded popper is jumping all over the counter, firing buttered popcorn all over the room.

Jack grabs a pan lid and a skillet... brandishing them a la Errol Flynn. He then proceeds to beat the popcorn maker into an impotent pulp.

148 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - DUSK

148

There are several cars parked in front of the house.

ANNETTE (V.O.)

I'll see your free giant Tide and raise you two Folgers' dollar offs.

149 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - FAMILY ROOM - SAME TIME

149

There's a poker game going on in Jack's kitchen. Jack, Joan, Annette and a couple of other neighbor ladies are playing for coupons. Jack's brought poker to the coffee klatch. Everybody but Annette and Joan folds.

JOAN

(flirting)

This is so much more fun than bridge, Jack. I'm glad you thought of it!

ANNETTE

(interrupting)

Are you going to play cards, or flap your gums?

JOAN

I'll see those Folgers and raise you...

(with great drama)

... a fifty-cent Bounce, a two-dollar John's Pizza rebate and a two-for-one Sun Pure Frozen Entree. *

ANNETTE

Have you tried those Sun Pure Entrees? *

(makes a face)

My dog won't eat 'em. But, I'm calling you with a sixty-cent, new, improved Ban Roll-On and a free introductory, triple-ply Hefty bag offer. Whattaya got?

Joan shows Jack her hand, and:

JOAN

(too innocently)

Are these any good?

She holds her cards for Jack to see.

150 JACK'S POV 150

The cards are being held in front of Joan's chest. Since a couple of her blouse buttons are open, Jack can not only see her cards, but a great deal of her cleavage.

151 BACK TO SCENE 151

JACK
Two pair... plenty.

Jack's eyes meet Joan's. They hold for a long beat.

152 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - NIGHT 152

Caroline pulls into the driveway, parks, gets out of the car... somewhat surprised by all the other cars.

153 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - KITCHEN - NIGHT 153

Caroline enters from the back door. She holds her briefcase and some file folders and watches Alex, Kenny and three other KIDS seated at the kitchen table, eating pizza out of a cardboard carton. They're watching TV. *

ALEX & KENNY
Mommy, Mommy.

154 INT. FAMILY ROOM 154

Caroline enters and says "hello" to everyone rather coolly.

JACK (guiltily)
Hi, honey. Is it that late already? *

JOAN
We were just finishing, Caroline.

CAROLINE
Don't be silly. Sit down, sit down. I've got a lot of work to do anyhow. I've got a big presentation to prepare for.

As Caroline backs out of the family room, Annette indicates that they should all get going. Jack avoids eye contact with Caroline.

JACK

Room service, Mrs. Butler.

Jack opens the door and enters.

157 INT. MASTER BEDROOM 157

Caroline is already in her nightgown. She has her work spread out all over the bed, and is making notes on a yellow pad. She looks up as Jack enters and places the tray on the bed.

CAROLINE

(coolly)

Thanks, Jack, but Ron dumped the Schooner Tuna presentation on me and I'm way behind.

JACK

You gotta eat something.

CAROLINE

If I felt like eating I would have gone down and made something for myself that I really wanted to eat. Okay?

JACK

All right, I think we should get right into this. Lemme give you a hand here. The house is a mess, the kids are a mess, I'm a mess. Did I leave anything out?

CAROLINE

No, that'll about do it. Jack, take a look at yourself, you've thrown in the towel.

(CONTINUED)

JACK

Fat jokes, right? What's next?

CAROLINE

Is the shirt open for discussion?

JACK

Sure.

CAROLINE

You've been wearing that shirt for the last two weeks straight. It should be retired and sent to the Dry Cleaning Hall of Fame.

Jack is steamed. As he listens, he is shaking his head
"yes."

CAROLINE

consoling)
Look, Jack, I know what you're going through. I've been there.

JACK

You have?

CAROLINE

CAROLINE

Because I wasn't unhappy. I was frustrated. I was confused. But, what saw me through was pride. I took pride in this house. I took pride in the kids, and I took pride in being Mrs. Jack Butler.

*

JACK

Maybe that's because you didn't know any better. All I know is my brain has turned to oatmeal. I yelled at Kenny this morning because he was coloring outside the lines. Megan and I are starting to like the same TV shows.

*

As he talks, Jack starts gathering a couple of pillows, a blanket and his pajamas.

CAROLINE

What are you doing? Where are you going?

Jack starts moving around like a fat man.

JACK

I'm just gonna get out of here so you have more room to walk, because I'm taking up so-o-o much room, because you got a lot of work to do.

As Jack moves toward the door in exaggerated "fat" movements:

JACK

(continuing)

And I got nothing to do except eat pizza and ice cream all day.
I'll just sleep downstairs on the "fat" couch.

He has reached the doorway. He turns to go out sideways.

JACK

(continuing)

Gotta get this doorway enlarged.

And he's gone.

158 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - MORNING

158

CAMERA GOES OFF the children playing in the backyard and STARTS ROVING THROUGH the unkempt house SEARCHING for Jack. The classic "Now Voyager" THEME GROWS LOUDER.

CAMERA finally FINDS Jack sitting on the couch in the family room. A beer and a piece of pizza in each hand, he seems mesmerized by the TV.

159 CLOSE ON TV

159

As Paul Henreid lights two cigarettes for Bette Davis...

160 BACK TO JACK

160

As the PHONE RINGS. He answers:

JACK

'Mornin', Joan. Hey, forget it, that was days ago.

161 INTERCUT JOAN AND JACK

161

She smiles wickedly, looks in a hand mirror and applies some makeup.

JOAN

(into phone)

No, it was insensitive of us. Caroline had every right to be angry.

JACK

Well, she was furious. We're not talking... or anything else.

JOAN

Oh, dear Jack... you need someone to talk to: A shoulder to cry on. I'm coming right over.

She hangs up before Jack can protest. The front DOOR KNOCKER BANGS... Jack looks at the phone still in his hand. He is slightly taken aback. He turns toward the sound.

162 JACK'S POV

162

A SLIGHTLY DISTORTED VIEW of the front door.

MUSIC: The "Now Voyager" THEME, BUILDING THROUGHOUT.

The front door opens and Joan Hampton stands there in a sheer blouse, short skirt and high heels. She looks phenomenally sexy.

163 ANGLE ON JACK AND JOAN

163

As she starts to walk toward him. There is a FAINT ECHO to all the SOUND.

JOAN

I came as fast as I could.

Jack stands to meet her.

JACK

You sure did. You look fabulous.

JOAN

So do you, Jack.

JACK

I do...?

What do you think of this shirt?

JOAN

Flannel gets me hot.

JACK

(nervously)

Don't you find me overweight?
Y'think I'm fat?

JOAN

I like a man with a little meat on his bones.

JACK

Y'know, Caroline hates this beard.

Joan moves closer into him...

JOAN

(mouthing)

I know. I love it.

She puts her arms around his neck, pulling his hair teasingly.

JOAN

(continuing)

You know what I want, Jack.

She pulls Jack back by his hair and kisses him full on the mouth.

Abruptly, the front DOOR SLAMS shut.

Jack and Joan look up.

163A THEIR POV

163A

Caroline stands in the doorway in full length fur.

*

CAROLINE

How could you, Jack?! And you, Joan, you're supposed to be my friend!

163B BACK TO SCENE

163B

Jack and Joan separate as Caroline approaches.

JOAN

He's too much man to be left alone, Caroline.

Caroline reaches into her purse and pulls out a .45 automatic pistol, levels the gun at Jack and Joan, deciding.

JACK

(panicking)
My God, Caroline, what are you doing? It was just one kiss!

JOAN

(cockily) You're not the first wife to pull a gun on me.

JACK

The children... they're right outside.

CAROLINE

Oh, that's all right.
(puts silencer on gun)
They'll never hear a thing.

JACK

Wait a minute... before you shoot, where'd you get that coat? *

CAROLINE

Oh, this, it's nothing. Just a little gift from Ron. *

JACK

What?!! *

CAROLINE

(exasperated)
What was I supposed to do, say no? Would that make a difference?
Would that change anything. *

JACK

All right, go ahead... shoot. I deserve it. I'm guilty!

The boredom, the repetition, the the loneliness...

CAROLINE

I did it, Jack. I did it for eight years.

JACK

I know, I know... Don't you think I know!

Joan suddenly grabs the gun in Caroline's hand. They struggle. Jack tries to stop them. Abruptly, the GUN GOES OFF! Caroline and Joan separate in horror as Jack staggers back across the room, knocking a lamp and table over, clutching at his chest... Finally, Jack falls back across the couch...

JACK

Right! Right... Watch the kids, I gotta go see a friend.

Jack races out, SLAMMING the door. Almost immediately he opens it again.

JACK

(continuing)

A guy... okay?

JOAN

(still confused)

Sure, Jack.

Jack bolts from the house again, SLAMMING the door.

171 EXT. SUBURBAN TRACT HOUSE - DAY

171

It is in dire need of repair and renovation. There is a slightly tilted "FOR SALE" sign on the overgrown lawn. A Ford station wagon, with a "FOR SALE" sign in the rear window, sits in the driveway. The porch LIGHT is STILL ON.

Jack parks his car on the street, gets out and starts to walk toward the house. As he does, the door opens and a woman, carrying a floor lamp, appears at the door with Larry Williams. Larry notices Jack approaching and sort of waves at him. Larry is still in his robe and slippers. They exchange greetings. A "GARAGE SALE" sign is tacked to a tree. *

172 INT. HOUSE - DAY

172

Jack steps in and looks around warily. The place needs a monumental house cleaning. Every item in the room has a price tag hanging from it.

LARRY

Stop-gap, Jack. I needed the cash flow till we get called back to work. *

JACK

Where's Marilyn and the kids? *

LARRY

In Chicago. With her folks. I guess it was hard for her seeing me like this.

Larry's dog, a sweet little mutt, enters the room and nuzzles Jack's leg. Jack leans down to pat the dog and sees there's a "FOR SALE" sign hanging from his collar. The DOORBELL RINGS and Larry answers it. It is a MIDDLE-AGED COUPLE. *

MAN

Saw your ad.

LARRY

Have a look around. Everything's negotiable.

The couple look around the living room, then walk off into another room, as Larry returns. Jack notices that there is a price tag on the back of his robe.

173 EXT. LARRY'S BACKYARD - DAY

173

A rusting lawn mower sits helpless in the tall weeds.

Larry is grilling hotdogs on a rusty Weber, listlessly turning them with a pair of pliers. Jack sits nearby on a shabby lawn chair. They're both drinking beer.

LARRY

Jinx said we could get called back any day now. *

JACK

(exploding)

He's lying, Larry! I got it straight from a guy in personnel. Jinx made budget cuts by firing half the department. It made him look great upstairs. Then, he gave himself a raise. Forget Jinx. Lar, you gotta get on with your life. *

LARRY

Why? *

Jack jumps up from the armchair.

MUSIC: INSPIRATIONAL -- BUILDING THROUGHOUT.

(CONTINUED)

JACK

Okay, so maybe we're on the ropes, and we're taking a pretty good beating... and like, one eye is beginning to close, okay? But, let me tell you something.

LARRY

The ribs, don't forget the ribs.

JACK

Right... And our ribs are pretty badly bruised from the body punches. But, like in "Rocky," we're comin' off the ropes swinging and we're gonna stand toe-to-toe like he did with Apollo Creed, and we're going to win that championship. *

LARRY

That was in "Rocky II." In "Rocky I," he lost.

JACK

Lar, you're missing the point. He went the distance... He didn't quit! He didn't give up!

Jack seems to have rekindled some sort of spark in Larry. Just at that moment, the middle-aged couple appears at the back door. The Man is holding Larry's dog.

WOMAN *

'Scuse me... How much for this dog?

LARRY

Wha...? It's on the tag.
(catching himself)
Put that dog down! He's not for sale.

The Man and his wife seem confused by Larry's attitude.

LARRY

(continuing)

I love that dog. My kid loves that dog. Nothing in the house is for sale. Get out!

Totally bewildered, the Man puts the dog down, turns and re-enters the house, as Jack grabs Larry in an embrace, and the MUSIC SWELLS.

Caroline looks at the tired faces of the dejected creative teams, then to Richardson:

CAROLINE
There's just one thing. It would

RICHARDSON
Whatever you want... just don't

She takes a deep breath and squares her shoulders.
She's ready.

215 INT. CONFERENCE ROOM - LATER

215

There is an air of distinct tension. Caroline sits down next to HOWARD HUMPHREY, President of Schooner Tuna. Humphrey is a tall, vain man in his early 50's. He's a man who is used to having things his own way. That's the way he likes it best.

Richardson sits next to him, nervously rubbing his sweating hands together.

HUMPHREY
Okay, you got my attention.
Shoot.

Caroline moves to a stand where there are three displays of Schooner Tuna. One sits on top of a pack of four glasses. One has a Hawaiian lei draped over it. The last has a can of the tuna packaged with a loaf of bread.

CAROLINE

I've done a little research, and here are the last three campaigns for selling Schooner Tuna.

(moves to glasses)

This one gave the customer four free glasses with every purchase. After three months, you were stuck with 60,000 glasses... not to mention the tuna.

(to Hawaiian exhibit)

This one offered a hundred free trips to Hawaii. Unfortunately, the contest started two days after the big hurricane. A big zilch, although you did manage to sell the 100,000 leis to the Don the Beachcomber restaurants.

HUMPHREY

What the hell is this... "This Is Your Life"?

Richardson's face starts to pale.

CAROLINE

The last campaign sounded terrific... "A Free loaf of bread with every can." The sales of the bread tripled in two months; the tuna sales didn't budge.

HUMPHREY

I hope to hell you're making a point.

CAROLINE

The point is, Mr. Humphrey, that the time for gimmicks and giveaways is over. I'm a housewife. Like housewives all over the country, I have to shop within a certain budget.

(MORE)

215

CAROLINE (CONT'D)

That budget has been decimated by inflation, job insecurity and unemployment. When we go into a market to shop, we're filled with fear, futility and frustration.

RICHARDSON

Good alliteration... fear, futility and frustration.

HUMPHREY

(to Richardson)

Shut up.

(to Caroline)

What the hell has all that to do with selling tuna?

CAROLINE

Those housewives need your help, not your gimmicks. We want somebody to tell us that they understand our problems... that they want to help. Here is a statement that I want on every counter in every supermarket in the country.

(pulls out paper; reads)

All of us at Schooner Tuna sympathize with those of you hit so hard in these trying economic times. In order to help you and your family, we are reducing the price of our tuna by fifty cents a can. Use that money to buy something else for your family. When this crisis is over, we'll go back to our regular prices. Until then, remember we're all in this together. Signed, Howard Humphrey, President, Schooner Tuna, "The Tuna With A Heart."

There is a moment of complete silence... a long, long moment.

RICHARDSON

I... I'm sorry, Mr. Humphrey.

American... that's what it is!!!!

CAROLINE

HUMPHREY

I'll be back in less than a week.

JACK
It doesn't matter. Because even when you're here, you're not here. Did you know that Megan cut two new teeth, and that Alex is playing football? And Kenny's security blanket... did you notice it's gone?

Just then, Joan, dressed as "Wonder Woman," with her kids, pass by. They wave and go on. *

JACK
(continuing)
You know, I feel like I've lost my best friend. If you had been here for Halloween, I was going to suggest you go as a ghost. *

The rear window lowers and Richardson sticks his head out and taps his watch. *

RICHARDSON
Caroline... we're going to have to roll. *

Caroline nods okay. *

CAROLINE
What do you want me to do, Jack, fail?

JACK
Of course not. Caroline, you gave me some good advice once. Now, let me give you some. I've been where you are now. It's easy to forget what's important. Don't.

Their eyes meet. It's a very significant moment for both of them. Caroline leans to kiss Jack goodbye, but it's almost impossible to get around his witch's nose, so she gives him a peck on the cheek.

CAROLINE

We'll talk about it when I get back.

JACK

Get going. You're gonna miss your plane.

Caroline enters the limo as Jack joins the kids.

220 INT. LIMO

220

As it moves off. Caroline peers out of the window.

221 HER POV

221

Of the Butler family sans Caroline, going off hand-in-hand, trick-or-treating.

A222 EXT. STREET - NIGHT

A222 *

A large "E.T." pokes its head out from behind a tree.

"E.T."

(to Jack)

Little woman's off again, huh?

JACK

Shut up, Annette.

Annette/"E.T." turns away as Jack and the kids walk off.

B222 EXT. BUTLER STREET - DAY

B222 *

An old VW Bug weaves down the street. Abruptly, it pulls over careening off a trashcan and then the curb in its attempt to park in front of the Butler house.

222 INT. SECOND BATHROOM - DAY

222

Megan sits on the toilet looking up at an impatient Jack who is in his three-piece suit.

JACK

Come on, sweetheart. Do it for Daddy and I'll buy you a Porsche when you're sixteen.

She just smiles. He moves to the door, calls out:

JACK

(continuing)

Is she here yet?

ALEX'S VOICE

(from stairs)

Not yet. Relax, Dad, there's plenty of time.

The front DOOR KNOCKER BANGS.

223 INT. FOYER

223

Jack seems relieved. He opens the door and goes into mild shock.

JACK

Who are you?

224 JACK'S POV OF THE BABYSITTER

224

A sixteen-year-old motorhead. She has triple-pierced ears, short butch hair, super mini, yellow tights, roller skates, leather jacket and "Walkman."

BABYSITTER

Your babysitter. Debbie asked me to sub for her.

*

225 TWO SHOT - JACK AND THE BABYSITTER

225

JACK

What?

BABYSITTER

C'mon, you know Debbie. She's a flake.

226 INT. OFFICE RECEPTION AREA - LATER

226

CAMERA PANS a row of a half-dozen job APPLICANTS. They're all youngish men in their 20's-to-early-30's, well dressed and eager.

226 CONTINUED:

226

The CAMERA COMES to REST on Jack, seated on a couch between Kenny and Alex, holding Megan on his knee.

A very pretty, young receptionist (JULIE), sits at a desk applying nail polish. This is probably the most taxing thing she will do all day. Her PHONE BUZZES. She picks up the receiver and listens for a moment.

*

JULIE

Mr. Butler...

*

Jack rises, places Megan in her stroller, approaches Julie.

*

JACK

Would you mind keeping an eye on the kids while I'm in there?

JULIE

I'm not having kids, I'm not watching kids.

*

Jack motions to Alex.

JACK

Alex, I'm in a jam. I need double coverage. You on Megan and Kenny. Can you handle it?

Alex nods.

ALEX

High five.

Alex reaches up and gives Jack a "high five." Jack turns and goes in for his interview.

227 INT. YAMADA'S OFFICE

227

TOSHIRO YAMADA, President and founder of Yamatronics, sits across the desk from Jack. As Yamada reads his resume, Jack studies him and Yamada's TWO ASSISTANTS. The three Oriental men are dressed alike, in conservative dark blue suits. Yamada speaks with a certain dedication that borders on fanaticism.

*

*

*

YAMADA

I'm very impressed with your background, Jack.

(CONTINUED)

JACK

Thank you, Mr. Yamada.

YAMADA

You have any idea what we're doing here?

JACK

Robotics. You make industrial robots that do all sorts of jobs. right?

YAMADA

Partially.

(inspired)

Jack, I feel that we're on the cutting edge of the new industrial revolution. We're developing machines that will respond to spoken command. Machines that can think.

Jack gets caught up in Yamada's enthusiasm. He moves forward.

YAMADA

(continuing)

Does that interest you, Jack?

JACK

Sure does, Mr. Yamada.

YAMADA

Scares you, too, doesn't it?

JACK

No, sir, I want in on it.

Yamada confers a moment with his two Assistants, then: *

YAMADA

There's just one thing, you have a sizeable family. This is a new industry. It takes a lot of time and dedication. It's very intense.

JACK

Look, Mr. Yamada, I know what's going through your head right now, but Jack Butler is the kind of guy you want. He's the kind of guy who can dedicate himself to his job and keep his family life balanced beautifully.

Excuse me.
- Jack runs to the door, opens it and looks out.
- 228 INT: HALLWAY - JACK'S POV 228
- Alex is standing in the hall waving at him to come on.
- ALEX
Dad... Megan!
- 229 JACK 229
- He motions that he'll be right there and dashes back into Yamada's office.
- 230 INT. YAMADA'S OFFICE 230
- JACK
Where was I...?
- YAMADA
Balancing your job and your family life beautifully.
- JACK
Right. All I'm gonna say is if you let Jack Butler walk out of here without giving him a job, you're making the biggest mistake of your life.
- ALEX (O.S.)
Dad... Hurry.
- YAMADA
Let us think about it.
- Jack's desperate. He fixes Yamada with a look and dashes off.
- 231 INT. MEN'S ROOM - LATER 231
- Jack is changing Megan on the sink. Kenny and Alex are staring into the urinals.

(CONTINUED)

JACK

I don't know why you had to do this now, Megan.

Jack looks around frantically for paper towels.

JACK

(continuing)

No damn towels! Alex! Get me some toilet paper!

Alex and Kenny go into two separate stalls.

ALEX (O.S.)

The toilet paper's all wet, Dad.

Jack grits his teeth.

JACK

Not the paper in the toilet!
The paper on the wall!

ALEX (O.S.)

Oh, that paper!

A beat later, Kenny and Alex walk out with the end of the roll of paper, unravelling it. Alex hands the end of the paper to Jack.

JACK

(with a sigh)

Thank you.

Jack wads up a ball, wets it and then pats Megan's tush. Alex and Kenny continue to unravel more toilet paper. There are now two ribbons of toilet paper running across the floor.

JACK

(continuing)

Cut it out! I have enough!

Jack wads up the dirty diaper. He doesn't know what to do with it. He remembers his diaper throwing ability. He sets and throws. The diaper sails across the bathroom and over a stall with a closed door, and into the john.

JACK

Sorry.

ALEX

You have to dry her off or she gets a rash.

Jack holds Megan's rear end up to the hand dryer on the wall. Kenny and Alex are holding wads of toilet paper and FLUSHING the URINALS. The men's room is a mess.

Jack looks over his shoulder as the door opens. It is Toshiro Yamada and his two Assistants. They all react with surprise.

232 INT. HOLLYWOOD SOUND STAGE - AFTERNOON

232

We are in the middle of a Commercial Shoot for Schooner Tuna. A full crew -- lights, camera... everything. (NOTE: We should not see the set up of the shot yet.) The DIRECTOR, young and artistic obviously, turns to his ASSISTANT. Behind them we can see Caroline and Richardson waiting anxiously.

DIRECTOR

Are we ready for another take?

ASSISTANT

Mr. Humphrey wants the music to play over the scene.

DIRECTOR

Didn't you explain to him we'd dub in the music later?

ASSISTANT

He says it gets him in the mood. You want to tell him no?

DIRECTOR

I'd like to tell him he's full of -- tuna.

(sighs)

Go ahead and roll 'em.

ASSISTANT

(loud)

Okay, stand by for a take.

A BELL RINGS on stage for quiet.

ASSISTANT

(continuing)

Roll 'em!

233 REVERSE ANGLE - HUMPHREY AND DISPLAY

233

We see it for the first time. The back drop should be a huge American flag printed on a flat. Humphrey wears an Uncle Sam hat jauntily on his head, carries a tiny American flag in one hand and a can of Schooner tuna in the other. A big red heart is pinned to his lapel.

A CAMERA ASSISTANT pushes a clap board in front of Humphrey's face.

CAMERA ASSISTANT Schooner Tuna commercial - take twenty-four!

He darts away.

DIRECTOR (V.O.)
Start the playback!

We hear a STIRRING RENDITION OF "AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL."

DIRECTOR (V.O.)
(continuing) Action!

HUMPHREY
My fellow Americans...

234 CLOSE SHOT CAROLINE AND RICHARDSON

234

She's stunned.

CAROLINE
Who put that in?

RICHARDSON
(shrugs)
One little line, Caroline.

We INTERCUT Humphrey's commercial during the rest of the whispered scene between Caroline and Richardson.

RICHARDSON
(seductively)
How about a little dinner when we're through?

CAROLINE
I'm too tired. As soon as we finish here, I just want to go back to the hotel and get into a nice hot tub.

235 EXT. CITY STREET - NIGHT

235

Joan's black GTO moves through light traffic.

236 INT. GTO - MOVING

236

Joan is driving. Jack is in the other bucket seat.
Two other women, from the poker game, are in the back.
Everyone's a little high.

JACK
You know, I actually think I had a job for about thirty seconds.

JOAN
Forget it, Jack. The important thing is you weren't fired.

Everyone but Jack laughs.

JACK
Why won't you tell me where we're going?

JOAN
It's a surprise.

Abruptly, the GTO turns into a parking lot. Jack looks out the window, then:

JACK
Hey, wait a minute. I'm not going in there.

JOAN
(parking car)
You're out with the girls now, Jack. Just go with it.

237 INT. NIGHTCLUB

237

MUSIC: LOUD, HEAVY DISCO

The SOUND of SCREAMING WOMEN is pervasive.

238 CLOSE ON JACK

238

Hunched down at one of the ringside tables.

JACK

Why'd you do this to me?

JOAN (O.S.)

You needed to have a good time.

JACK

I'm not having a good time.

239

Revealing that we are in a club like Chippendale's. Three male dancers gyrate on the stage. One dances his way out of a pair of silver space pants. He will soon be down to his G-string and space boots. *

The room is filled with out-of-control women and one man -- Jack.

JOAN

Besides, when was the last time you were surrounded by this many hot-to-trot women?

WOMAN IN CROWD

(shouting)

Take it off. Take it all off.

Jack slumps into his chair and pulls his shoulders up in a vain attempt to hide himself. Joan sticks her fingers in her mouth and lets out a ferocious WOLF-WHISTLE.

JOAN

Hey, "Flash," over here...!

Jack grimaces and shrinks even lower in his seat, as Joan sticks some money into her cleavage and the other women urge the dancer over to their table.

240 JACK'S POV

240

As the dancer makes his way over to their table.

A241 BACK TO SCENE

A241 *

Joan jumps up and sticks her chest out at the dancer. He happily takes the money out of her bra and lays a big kiss on her. Jack's eyes widen, and he looks horrified.

JOAN (very excited;
to Jack)

Wait till you see where I put the money next time!

JACK (monotone)

I can hardly wait.

*

241 BACK TO JACK

241

As he turns his eyes away from the stage. The women SHRIEK and wave dollar bills. Joan jabs Jack in the ribs.

JOAN
He's looking at you.

Jack looks up with alarm.

242 CLOSE ON SPACE DANCER

242

He's smiling down at Jack.

243 BACK TO JACK

243

As all eyes turn to him. Jack, feeling very intimidated, tries to surrepticiously hand the dancer a bill. The dancer grabs it in his teeth.

*

*

244 INT. HOTEL BATHROOM

244

A luxurious Beverly Hills Hotel-type bathroom. The tub is filling up with hot, bubbly water. A SOFT ROCK RADIO STATION is HEARD. A glass, a split of champagne, a large bowl of giant, long-stemmed strawberries, and a silver cup full of powdered sugar, sits on the table.

Caroline, clad in a plush terrycloth robe, stands at the mirror massaging her neck as she rotates it. It's been a long, tiring day. Caroline gazes at herself in the mirror for a long moment.

She crosses to the tub, pours herself a glass of champagne and starts to undo her robe.

245 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - NIGHT

245

Joan's GTO backs out of the driveway, as Jack waves to them.

JACK

Thanks, girls. Don't call me,
I'll call you.

246 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - NIGHT

246

Jack enters and crosses to the family room.

247 INT. BUTLER FAMILY ROOM

247 *

Annette is sitting on the couch, flanked by Alex and Kenny, who are fast asleep. Annette's watching TV.

JACK

Now I know why you offered to sit with the kids. You knew where they were taking me, didn't you?

ANNETTE

Yup.

Annette starts to laugh uncontrollably.

JACK

Real funny, Annette.

The kids wake up.

ALEX

Daddy!

JACK

Hi, sport. I'm taking you to to bed.

ALEX

No... no... I want to talk to Mommy.

JACK

Mommy's in California.

KENNY

I want to talk to Mommy, too.
Call her. Pleeeeze.

JACK

Tomorrow. It's too late now.

247 CONTINUED:

247 *

ANNETTE
It's only eight-thirty in California.

Jack shoots Annette a look, as Kenny and Alex plead with him. Jack goes over to the phone.

248 INT. HOTEL SUITE - SAME TIME

248

As the door opens and a room service table is rolled in. Ron Richardson, dressed in an elegant robe over his pajamas, follows the waiter in. The table is beautifully set, complete with two silver candlesticks, an ice bucket with a bottle of champagne in it, and a dozen roses. The waiter lights the candles.

*
*

Richardson tips him , and he exits.

*

249 ANOTHER ANGLE

249

As Richardson goes about the room setting a romantic scene. As a final touch, he DIMS the room LIGHTS and then goes to change the station of the radio. He begins to twist the dial.

250 INT. HOTEL SUITE BATHROOM

250

Caroline is relaxing in the tub with her eyes shut. Her eyes open with a start as she hears the RADIO STATION GOING from SOFT MUSIC to a SPANISH SPEAKING STATION to a BORN AGAIN MINISTRY of the air, to a PUNK ROCK SONG, and finally coming to REST on a CLASSICAL STATION. As she starts to rise from the tub:

251 INT. HOTEL SUITE LIVING ROOM

251

As Richardson moves across the living room toward the bedroom, the PHONE RINGS. Instinctively, he picks it up, and:

RICHARDSON
(hushed voice)
Hello... Alex who?

252 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - NIGHT

252

Alex is holding the phone and looking at Jack.

ALEX
I don't know... some guy.

252 CONTINUED:

252

Jack grabs the phone out of Alex's hand.

JACK

Is Caroline Butler there?

253 INTERCUT - JACK AND RICHARDSON

253

RICHARDSON

She's in the tub. Who's this?

JACK

Who the hell is this?

Richardson hangs up. Jack looks at the phone angrily, then SLAMS it down. This scene is etched in Annette's mind.

254 INT. HOTEL SUITE LIVING ROOM

254 *

Caroline enters from the bathroom wearing a robe. She's surprised to find Richardson there.

CAROLINE

What are you doing? Who was that?

RICHARDSON

Nobody.

CAROLINE

Did I hear you say "Alex?"

RICHARDSON

(innocently)

No.

Caroline looks at him a beat.

CAROLINE

All right... What are you doing here?

RICHARDSON

Someone has to pour the champagne.

Richardson moves to the bucket and glasses.

CAROLINE

I think you'd better go.

She moves to the door to show him out. He grabs her as she crosses.

(CONTINUED)

RICHARDSON

Don't do this, Caroline. You've been waiting for this opportunity as long as I have.

CAROLINE

What?

RICHARDSON

You can't fool me. I've been watching you over these past few months. You've blossomed. You're not the same shy, insecure woman you were when you started working for me.

CAROLINE

Have you been drinking?

RICHARDSON

Of course.

CAROLINE

Ron... get out.

RICHARDSON

(advancing)

You're lovely when you're angry.

CAROLINE

Now.

Richardson lunges at her. She gets away, runs around the table and picks up the flower vase.

RICHARDSON

Don't be coy, Caroline.

Caroline throws the vase, he ducks and it CRASHES against a wall.

RICHARDSON

(continuing)

You're driving me wild.

He makes another lunge at her and catches her. She swings wildly and punches him right in the eye. He falls to his knees, shakes his head to clear it, then looks up:

RICHARDSON

(continuing)

Playing hard to get, huh?

255 INT. BUTLER FAMILY ROOM - NIGHT

255

Jack sits across from Annette. They are both drinking beer and staring at each other.

ANNETTE

Get used to it, Jack. There's nothing you can do about it. You can't take matters into your own hands. You've got the responsibilities now. The kids, the house. All you can do is stay here and wait.

Abruptly, the PHONE STARS RINGING. Jack stares at it.

ANNETTE

(continuing)

Aren't you going to answer it? That's the fourth time it's rung in the last hour.

JACK

Can't do anything about it, huh?!

Jack grabs the phone cord and goes around the room ripping it out of the wall.

JACK

(continuing)

That better?

He's really charged up now.

JACK

(continuing)

Made me feel better.

(beat' then)

You better go home, Annette. I'm about to take matters into my own hands.

ANNETTE

My lips are sealed. Why don't you go to sleep. You'll feel better about things in the morning.

*

She quickly exits.

JOAN
Thank you. Than you verry... verry much.

Joan quickly gets into her GTO and BURNS RUBBER backing out of the driveway and SCREECHES away down the street past the smiling Annette.

258 INT. UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - HIGH NOON

258

Jack stands at one end as "Jaws" approaches from the other. Jack watches carefully as "Jaws" circles him. Finally, Jack clicks a small device in his hand.

JACK Stay.

"Jaws" stops dead in its tracks, its motor cutting off.

Jack presses another button on his device.

259 INT. SECOND BATHROOM - SAME TIME

259

Kenny stands near the toilet zipping up his pants. Abruptly, the TOILET FLUSHES. Kenny is surprised.

260 INT. MEGAN'S NURSERY

260

Megan stands up in her crib.

MEGAN Daddy. Daddy!

Mobile above her heads starts turning and playing a lullaby... Megan starts to giggle.

*
*

261 INT. MASTER BEDROOM - SAME TIME

261

Jack watches "Jaws" vacuum back and forth across the room as Megan's VOICE is HEARD over the INTERCOM.

JACK
(to intercom)
Coming, baby.

262 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - AFTERNOON

262

Joan's GTO SCREECHES up in front. Joan gets out quickly, and moves past a Pest Control van, toward:

*
*

263 EXT. FRONT DOOR

263

Joan presses the new doorbell. It CHIMES. A small speaker box sits unobtrusively nearby.

JACK'S VOICE (over speaker; recorded)

This is Jack Butler. There are children in the house.
Please be patient, I'll be with you in a moment.

*

A beat, then the door opens. It's Alex. Joan enters.

264 INT. FOYER

264

Joan looks around. There's an expression of amazement on her face.

JOAN (to Alex)
What happened?

265 JOAN'S POV

265

Nothing in the family room or the living room is the same. All the furniture has been rearranged.

ALEX (O.S.)
Dad did a whole lot of weird stuff... All night.

*

*

266 BACK TO SCENE

266

JOAN (to Alex)
You got something to do?

Just then, Jack descends the stairs with Megan in his arms.

JACK Hi, Joan.

Jack gives Alex a look. He understands. Jack then puts Megan in her walker... She toddles off after Alex toward the kitchen.

JOAN
You should have called me last night to take care of your burst of nervous energy.

JOAN

She only said one word, Jack.

JACK

Oh, what was that?

JOAN

Now!

The front door CHIME interrupts. Jack opens the door. It's Doris, the TV repair person.

*
*

DORIS

Trouble with that horizontal hold again? Somebody called.

*

JACK

Right.

*

She enters as Jack closes the door.

*

DORIS

The job didn't come through, huh?

*

Jack gives her a weary glance.

*

DORIS

(continuing)

Don't worry, it's on warranty.

(going off)

I know where it is.

*

As Doris heads for the family room she checks out Joan.

*

267 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - SAME TIME

267

A taxi pulls up behind Joan's car. Caroline hops out, pays the cabbie, picks up her bags... checks out Joan's car and walks toward the house past the TV repair van and the Pest Control van.

 sound I can hear her.
- JOAN
 (flirting)
 You're not a good engineer, Jack, you're a great engineer.
 (vampy) *
 I wonder what else you're great at. *
- She moves toward Jack... He backs away.
- JACK
 Look, I'm kinda grimy and sweaty... Let me grab a shower.
- JOAN *
 I like a man to smell like a man... But, why don't I join you. *
- Jack backs into the master bathroom, violently shaking his head "no." *
- JOAN *
 (continuing) Then, let me know when I can come in and scrub your back.
- He SLAMS the door shut. Joan turns around with a wicked smile on her lips... which instantly fades: *

 Joan?

JOAN
 Responding to someone in pain.
 (uneasy)
 Is it too early for a drink?

CAROLINE
 Not today.

274 INT. MASTER BATHROOM

274

The shower is running, but Jack is not in it. Instead, he is nervously pacing up and down trying to decide what to do.

275 INT. LIVING ROOM

275 *

Alex, Kenny and Megan follow the Pest Control Man around the room. They are all eating cookies.

PEST CONTROL MAN
 Ummm, these sure are good.
 Your Mommy make 'em?

ALEX (proud) No, my Dad.

Caroline and Joan enter.

ALEX/KENNY/MEGAN Mommy! Mommy!

They run to her.

PEST CONTROL MAN
 Long time no see, Mrs. Butler.

JOAN
 What'll we drink to?

CAROLINE
 How about Jack Butler? I think he's a hell of a guy.

DORIS (O.C.)
 (from family room)
 I'll drink to that.

They drink. Caroline refills both glasses, then:

CAROLINE
 I don't know what's been going on here, and frankly, I don't care, because part of it's my fault. But, I know my husband, and I know me... and I know nothing happened to either one of us.

284 INT. LIVING ROOM

284

Caroline sets her glass down and smiles as she HEARS the SCREECH of Joan's car driving away. She turns around and sees Jack standing in the doorway.

A culmination of eleven years of love and respect plays on both their faces.

Finally:

JACK

You're right, you know.

CAROLINE

You're damn right, I'm right.

They fly into each other's arms and kiss passionately. Caroline and Jack move as one person to the couch, lie down. The front door CHIMES, then the MUFFLED SOUNDS of:

JACK'S VOICE

about?

JINX
It's personal...

Caroline and Jack enter as Jinx closes the door behind him.

JINX
(continuing;
to Jack) Jack, great news. I went to the wall with management. They finally agreed to take you back.
Same job. Same salary. I fought like an animal.

Abruptly, the front DOOR CHIMES again. And Jack's MUFFLED VOICE is HEARD, STUCK... again.

Caroline opens the door. It's Larry. He bolts in, looking very excited.

LARRY (out of breath)
Hi, Caroline. Jack, great news!
I got your job back... with a raise.

JINX
What do you mean you got him his job back? You don't have your job back.

LARRY
That's right. I have yours.
Jinx, you're fired!

Jinx does a slow burn as Caroline, Jack and Larry embrace.

JACK
I don't know what to say, Larry, thanks just isn't enough.

LARRY
Don't thank me, Jack. It was you. You did it, you turned me around...

285 *

Jack, Caroline and Larry all stare down at Jinx...
He's on his knees in front of them.

JINX
(breaking down)
You gotta save me, Jack...

DORIS (O.S.)
(from family room)
Why? You didn't lose any sleep when you fired them.

Caroline looks at Doris, quizzically. Jack and Larry smile.

JACK
She's right. Now you can stuff it, Jinx.

The front DOORBELL CHIMES, again. Jack's VOICE, again.

EVERYONE
Come in... It's open.

286 THEIR POV

286 *

Of Ron Richardson, sheepishly opening the door and entering. There's a small welt under his right eye.

287 BACK TO SCENE

287 *

Richardson looks at Jack, then:

RICHARDSON
(covering his face)
For God's sake, don't hit me...!
Please hear me out.
(beat; then)
Caroline, I want to beg your forgiveness and ask you to please come back to work for the agency. Humphrey threatened to pull the account if you don't come back.

Jack is shocked. Larry looks down at Jinx. They both shrug.

CAROLINE
I told you last night, I quit.
And that's final. I'm a housewife. I don't belong out there, I belong here, with my husband and kids.

JACK
No, you don't.

Now it's Caroline's turn to be surprised.

JACK
(continuing)
This is the hardest damned job in the world.

CAROLINE
And, I'm terrific at it.

JACK
You're terrific at your job, too.

RICHARDSON
Right. And we want her back at it.

In the b.g., Megan staggers into the room.

288 CLOSE ON MEGAN

288 *

She's holding an empty chili can. She drops it and gets a funny look on her face... Then, she BELCHES!

289 INT. BUTLER HOUSE - LIVING ROOM

289 *

Caroline, Larry, Jinx, Richardson, the Pest Control
Man and Doris all look at Megan in horror.

290 CLOSE ON CHILI CAN

290 *

As it rolls across the floor. Megan BELCHES again!

291 EXT. BUTLER HOUSE - DAY

291 *

The front door bursts open and Doris, the Pest Control Man, Richardson, Larry and Jinx bolt from the house.
The door shuts.

JACK'S VOICE
(over speaker; recorded)
Thank you for coming to the Butler house. Please, come again.

They all get into their vehicles and SQUEAL away down the street.

292 INT. FOYER - MOMENTS LATER

292 *

Alex, Kenny and Megan look up at Caroline and Jack standing face-to-face in an embrace.

CAROLINE

You fed Megan chili?

JACK

(grins)

You don't know what you've missed.

ROLL END CREDITS OVER:

293 CLOSE ON MEGAN

293 *

Lying on a blanket as a male hand and a female hand change her diaper.

FADE OUT.
